GIVES PROOF OF RESURRECTION OF CHRIST

Inspiring Sermon by Evangelist W. E. Biederwolf

MANY WALK SAWDUST TRAIL

Victorious Football Team Joins Throng as Penitents

"The resurrection of Christ is the heart of the Bible," Dr. W. E. Biederwolf declared at the tabernacle Thursday night. "If we did not believe in the resurrection we could not believe that Christ came to this earth and died so that our sins might be forgiven. We could not believe that He was the true Son of God if He had not risen from His grave and the Bible would have been nothing to us. But He continued, 'We know that He did come up from His grave and walked on earth. We know it because His disciples were so sure that it all happened that they gave their lives for His name. If He had not risen they would have never died for a lie. Knowing all these things, makes life worth while. If we walk in the ways of our Heavenly Father we shall have life everlasting and be again with our friends who have gone on before us a little while but if we heed not to His teachings we shall fall from His grace and go to live forever in the hell of the devil; not that world where all is sorrow and pain, a place from which there is no escape or relief."

BRAVE SOLDIER

"I know of a soldier boy who declared that he was not afraid to die," said Biederwolf. He laughed when the shells were falling all about him. "There is no God in heaven," he said, "so why do you fellows waste your time praying, and to be honest on his fearless way until one day when he went over the top in a heavy charge, he received a bullet in his breast and he knew that he must die. His companions carried him back behind the lines and he prayed: 'Oh God give me time to repent; Oh God give me time to repent; Oh God give me time to repent.'"

"And so it is with all the infidels," said the evangelist. "They may be brave enough when the sun is shining, but when the clouds roll up they are afraid, for they have no God to go to with their troubles, but they at last call upon the God in Heaven and ask His forgiveness and help."

Dr. Biederwolf's Thanksgiving sermon was delivered before 5,000 men and women and at the close of the service 85 people walked the trail. When the members of the south high football team walked down the sawdust path in a body, the congregation cheered them. Dr. Biederwolf was very much moved by the inspiring sight. "God bless you all," said he as he put his arms around one of the boys. "It is the most wonderful thing that you have ever done and I'm proud of you. I have always been a football fan and I used to play in the game when it was not nearly so clean as it is now. When I played," he continued, "we were all told to go in to kill; we formed in the letter V with our best man in the front and when we went down that line something had to happen but it is all much better now and the fellows all play a clean cut game."

ATTENDS FOOTBALL GAME

"I attended the football game today," said Dr. Biederwolf, "and it was as clean a game as I ever witnessed. I enjoyed every minute of it and want to congratulate the boys of both sides upon their very good playing. But as I looked over the 6,000 people who had paid fifty cents each to see that game, I couldn't help but think how ready the people of Lima are to spend their money for some things. At least $3,000 was taken in at that game and we can't raise $300 a night at these tabernacle meetings, to say nothing of the darkness of the city of Lima."

CAR TURTLES, M'GUFFY MAN DIES

Ex-Kaiser's Wife Bosses Palace

DOORN, Holland — (Associated Press) — The first change in the ex-kaiser's household since Princess Hermine took over the reins in the departure of Count Von Moltke, the court marshal. The new "empress" has signified her intention of instituting a regime which will be directly opposed to the policies of Von Moltke.

RIOT DEATH TOLL MAY REACH 30

Great Mob and Soldiers Clash in Mexico City

RESULT OF WATER CUT-OFF

Crowd Storms Municipal Palace and Battle Follows

BY FREDERICK G. MEUMERER
MEXICO CITY, (United Press) — Not since the "tragic ten days" of 1913, has Mexico City presented such a bloody aspect as dawn revealed this morning, after a night of sanguinary rioting.

The rising sun gleamed upon a shambles in the historic Zocalo before the portals of the smoke-grimed, flame-scorched municipal palace.

Estimates of the dead ranged as low as 12, and as high as 30. There was no way of telling accurately at the hour of filing this dispatch, as many of the dead had been borne away by their friends and many of the scores of wounded will die.

In 1913, during the tragic ten days, the fighting was between two groups of men striving for power. Last night's battle was between a horde of thirst-craved peasants, goaded to frenzy, because the city water supply had failed, and the cold, white-armed power of the mob and the municipal palace. But the results were the same—buzzing bullets, groans, walls, flames and blood.

FORMING OF THROG

Early in the evening the throng formed. The people were angry. Agitators mounted soap boxes and denounced municipal officials for permitting the water plant to be flooded, which result in putting the city on rations—water for one hour daily.

"Take over the government and run it yourselves," the speakers told the crowd. "Demand the resignation of the city officials. Seize the city hall."

The people grew more excited and finally began surging in the direction of the municipal palace. As they moved along, stones crashed thru shop windows. Some groans sang; others shouted and yelled.

RESIGNATION DEMANDED

Men with tin of gasoline appeared at the head of the grim procession. The municipal palace was dark and ominously silent when the rioters marched into the enclosure. They milled about yelling "Agua," demanding the resignation of Dr. Alonso Romero, the municipal president. Soldiers and police began trying to disperse them.

SHAFER'S NECK IS BROKEN AS AUTO LEAVES ROAD

Lima Man, Thought Fatally Injured, Quickly Recovers

FATALITY NEAR WAYNESFIELD

Record of Over-Thanksgiving Accidents

Luther Shafer, 50, of McGuffry, was killed instantly Thursday when his automobile turned over near Twin Bridges, one mile south of that village.

Shafer was on his way to Lima to visit John Varga, official of the Scoto Land company, of McGuffry, and was traveling at a high rate of speed. When he attempted to turn west, the automobile failed to make the turn, and turned turtle as it slid into a ditch.

Shafer's neck was broken. He is survived by one daughter, residing in Lima, another daughter and two sons in McGuffry. The body was taken to Ridgeway, Shafer's former home, where funeral services will be held.

Shafer was employed as a carpenter for the Scoto Land company, and had devised an apparatus which was intended to afford rest to John Varga, who is now confined to his bed as a result of injuries sustained in a fall several months ago.

It was believed Thursday night that J. P. Keller, 573 W. Haller-st., was fatally injured, as a result of an auto accident in Spencerville, but he had almost fully recovered Friday.

Keller, riding in an automobile with L. Fruechey and wife of Beaverdam, was picked up in an unconscious condition after the Fruechey auto struck the William Pliker car as it was turning to enter a garage on Main-st. in Spencerville.

The Fruechey auto was hurled against a curb after hitting the Pliker vehicle and then bounded against a tree, breaking it down. The car was badly damaged.

Fruechey and his wife were injured, but not seriously. Their hurts are for the most part cuts and bruises. Pliker was not injured, but was badly frightened. His car is somewhat damaged.

The accident occurred at 6 p. m. The injured people were brought to Lima in a Spencerville ambulance, after being given first aid at the Welch & Miller hospital. Keller was taken to his home, where he soon regained consciousness. The Fruechey were taken to the E. H. Dicke home, 351 S. Jackson-st.

FARMER IS KILLED

Ferdinand Harrod, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Harrod, nine miles southeast of Lima, near Waynesfield, was killed instantly Thursday when a buggy in which he was riding was struck by an I. C. & E. interurban car. The body was dragged 75 feet and terribly mangled. Harrod is survived by his parents and three brothers and one sister.

Oscar Line, 42, of 128 Dana-av., is recovering from injuries received when a bicycle he was riding crashed into a shop window. Some groans sang; others shouted and yelled.

BELGIAN IS FINED BY JACKSON

Assessed $500 on Liquor Charge Upon Recovering

Alphonse DeMeerler, Belgian farmer residing near Delphos, now recovered from a fainting spell with which he was attacked when arraigned in police court Wednesday on a charge of possessing illicit liquor, was informed Friday that he must pay a fine of $500.

DeMeerler is being held in the county jail under the care of Sheriff Barker. He was arrested by deputies when they raided a farm near Delphos Monday.

An old charge filed against him in criminal court here, was revived when sheriffs brought him to this city.

He pleaded guilty to it before Judge Jackson and fainted away before he could be fined.

Jackson, withheld action on his case until he recovered.

BUCKEYE PIPE LINE CO. PURCHASES PROPERTY OF PARAGON, IT IS REPORTED

Purchase of the pipe lines of the Paragon Refining Co., of Toledo, by the Buckeye Pipe Line Co. is said to have been completed, following a series of conferences between officials of the two companies.

Absence of T. B. Green, general manager, made it impossible to confirm the statement at the Buckeye offices Friday, but it is understood on good authority that the deal has been consummated.

Lines extending from North Lima oil fields to Toledo are said to be included in the purchase. They will be combined with the lines owned and operated by the local company.

Negotiations for the property have been under way for some time, it is said, and a complete survey of the property purchased has been made. The local company handles a large portion of the oil used by the Paragon Refinery, it is said.

DRIVER OF BANDIT CAR CONFESSES

Cincinnati Man Admits Part Played in Columbus Battle

BANK ROBBERY PLANNED

Fourth Member of Gang Tells of Intended Holdup

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — Charles Mitthoefer of Cincinnati, alias Frank W. Willis, arrested in Cleveland yesterday on suspicion of being one of the four bandits who shot and killed a policeman and today broke down and made a complete confession, the police announced.

Brought here early today, Willis was arraigned in municipal court and bound over to the grand jury.

Mitthoefer, sitting at ease, his arms folded, his chair tipped back against a wall, related to police how he and his companions stole a taxi in Cleveland, how they intended robbing a Columbus Bank, how Paulman Koehler was killed in Columbus and how he made his escape from the woods near Lilly Chapel while more than 400 officers and citizens were searching for him.

DENIES SHOOTING

The prisoner admitted having driven the bandit car but denied he had done any of the shooting. He said he was slowing down the automobile, preparatory to robbing the Stadium restaurant in this city, when Patrolman Koehler and Corporal Fridde stopped him. Mitthoefer said that "Big Bill" Long was still living as he drove the car from the scene of the battle with the Columbus police, but that he died before they abandoned the automobile near West Jefferson.

Mitthoefer declared that he was within 200 feet of Martin, another of the bandits, when Martin was arrested. He said that several times during the chase thru the woods near Lilly Chapel he could have killed pursuing officers. "But I knew I would go, too, if I did," he said in explaining why he had not shot.

Mitthoefer pleaded not guilty to a charge of first degree murder for the killing of Patrolman Koehler, and was held to the grand jury, which is in session. Mary Kovach, the woman arrested with him, also was held to the grand jury as a material witness.

FILIBUSTER STIRS CONGRESS

Administration Leaders Fear Shattering of Program

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — Compromises were under way today to end the filibuster of senate Democrats, which has completely stopped all business in the upper house of congress since last Tuesday.

Some administration leaders fear continuation of the uprising—which old timers pronounced the most skillful and successful waged in years—will explode dynamite to shatter some of their hopes for the coming regular session of congress which opens Monday.

The potentialities which it is feared are screened behind the present movement against the Dyer anti-lynching bill, include:

1—Ortation of a like movement against the ship subsidy coming up next week, inasmuch as the anti-subsidy group is composed almost entirely of present filibusters.

2—Delay in the appropriation bill for the government's next fiscal year.

3—Forcing an extra session of the new congress in which progressive bloc the sway of power and could lead their impetus to such movements as the Democrats are now beginning.

"TURN ON THE LIGHTS OR RESIGN"

"TURN ON THE LIGHTS, OR RESIGN."

This slogan may be spread broadcast thruout the city before the end of the week, according to Limaites met in all parts of the city Friday, as the answer of the public to so-called retrenchment by the City Commission.

The slow gathering of a storm is seen on every hand. People living in Lima for 50 years never heard of such puerile action as the proposal, now a fact, of the City Commission.

Deep, sullen resentment with charges that the action is due to a "pet peeve" over the defeat of the two-mill levy, is met on every hand. Sober, staid business men and bankers, admit without permitting quotation that darkening the city's streets is inviting crime.

Attendants of the Biederwolf meetings are up in arms, some even claiming it is a stab against the united evangelical campaign. Against this, picture show houses see bankruptcy staring them in the face with their best season, the pre-Christmas holidays, gone dead.

MERCHANTS HARD HIT

Merchants, usually having two weeks given over to keeping stores open night see such action as useless with the streets so dark people are frightened to leave their homes.

Another angle, which may cost the city twice the amount of the saving, is threatened suits by subscribers to the boulevard-light system, who claim they have been sold the lights under false pretenses; that they were promised the city would furnish the light if they would install the system. At the same time manufacturers and mechanics say the $188,000 municipal light plant, the creation of the Burkhardt administration, now practically becomes junk. The boulevard-light system has been operated by the municipal plant at a cost, net it is claimed, of around $600 a month. Over $1,800 left in the lighting fund, was transferred to petty accounts as late as last Monday. This would have kept the Boul-Light system, at least, running more than three months. While to keep it running, better posted people claim, is only a matter of bookkeeping at best, the city being technically required to pay the waterworks the cost of the making of kilowatts, cost, ex-city officials say, that has never been accurately figured.

INVITATION TO YEGGS

Marked copies of papers all over the United States commenting on the action of the City Commission in darkening the town, and publishing the fact, are being received at The Lima News office almost every hour. It seems to be a favorite topic of editorial comment. The idea is quite new, says one writer, to advertise the fact to criminals that "they are cordially invited to spend the winter in Lima, Ohio, and reap rich harvests."

Ott Plummer, the Cadillac prince; John Roby, the barrister; Ben Thomas, the packer; and E. Ritzler, the cinema king, started a voluntary subscription late Friday to keep the lights on. City Hall says even this is too late for tonight's blackness. All day Lima Gas Light employees have been busied turning off the gas lights. The city already owes the gas company about $2200 for back payments today, when it decided to quit trading there for a year.

"TURN ON THE LIGHTS, OR RESIGN," seems to be the answer given by the public to the City Commission. And it may be widely heard and acted upon within the next forty-eight hours.

4 BURN TO DEATH WHEN FLAMES DESTROY HOTEL

Hostelry at Portland, Oregon, is Swept by Fire

NUMBER INJURED UNKNOWN

Rescuers Are Driven From Building by Explosion

PORTLAND, Ore. — (Associated Press) — Four men lost their lives in a fire early today in the Ben Hur hotel, formerly known as the Oak hotel, in the business district here.

None of the dead had been identified several hours after the fire. All the other guests were reported to have escaped, most of them in their night clothing.

The building was destroyed. The number of injured had not been determined at noon.

The fire broke out in the hotel furnace room. Taxis and police worked heroically to arouse the guests, until an explosion on the third floor forced the rescuers from the building.

Guests at two of the principal hotels, the Benson and Oregon, which adjoin the Ben Hur, were awakened by the management and warned to prepare to leave if the fire spread. The fire was controlled before it reached other buildings. The cause of it has not been determined. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

NO RELIEF SEEN FROM DRASTIC RULING

Commissioners Await Suggestions From Citizens

SAFETY DEPARTMENTS CUT

Only One Man at Each of Three Fire Departments

Lima citizens took a long, lingering, farewell look at the street lights Thursday night. Unless something unforeseen occurs, the lights will be seen no more until January 1, 1924.

Pedestrians on the streets at a late hour stubbed their toes on uneven sidewalks and swore softly to themselves as they thought of the nights to come when the city will be in total darkness.

Farmers in the county and residents in the villages within a 13 mile radius of Lima saw for the last time the reflection of the city's lights in the sky above it.

Friday night, when they look toward the city, they will see a spot so black a piece of coal would leave a white mark on it as one Lima business man said Friday.

Hardware stores announced that no special calls had been received for lanterns or flashlights, but that they are well stocked for the demand which they believe will be seen following the first night of darkness.

Theaters owners are viewing the dark streets with a little concern, at hundreds of theatergoers will not care to venture upon the streets when the lights are extinguished, they believe.

REVENUE LOSS SEEN
This will mean a considerable loss of revenue to the theaters and will also affect all business institutions which depend upon "night life" for this income.

A rumor that the orchestra of the city was intending to revive the old tune "I'm afraid to go home in the dark," was denied by Ralph Pascoe, manager of the "Shawnee," who admitted, however, that dances might be made financially unprofitable by the order.

"We have received no proposals whereby it will be possible to keep the street lights burning," C. A. Bingham, city manager, said Friday. "The proposals will probably come after the streets have been dark for several nights," he said.

Statements issued by the city commission show that they do not intend to take any action which will result in the turning on of the lights, unless the citizens of the city demand it.

Defeat of the two mill levy is taken by the commission as an order to cut all expenditures to the minimum, even to the elimination of the street lights and police and fire departments if necessary, Bingham says.

Extinguishing of the street lights will mean a saving of $50,000 a year, the city manager says. Residents of the city have been promised that the city will be guarded from the depredations of yeggs, it was announced.

A special police force under the direction of John "Jack" O'Malley has been organized to police the stores during the day and to patrol the downtown section of the city at night.

While the personnel of the special detective force was not made public Friday, it was announced that former Patrolmen Goode and Mills have been employed by the organization for police duty and will start work at once.

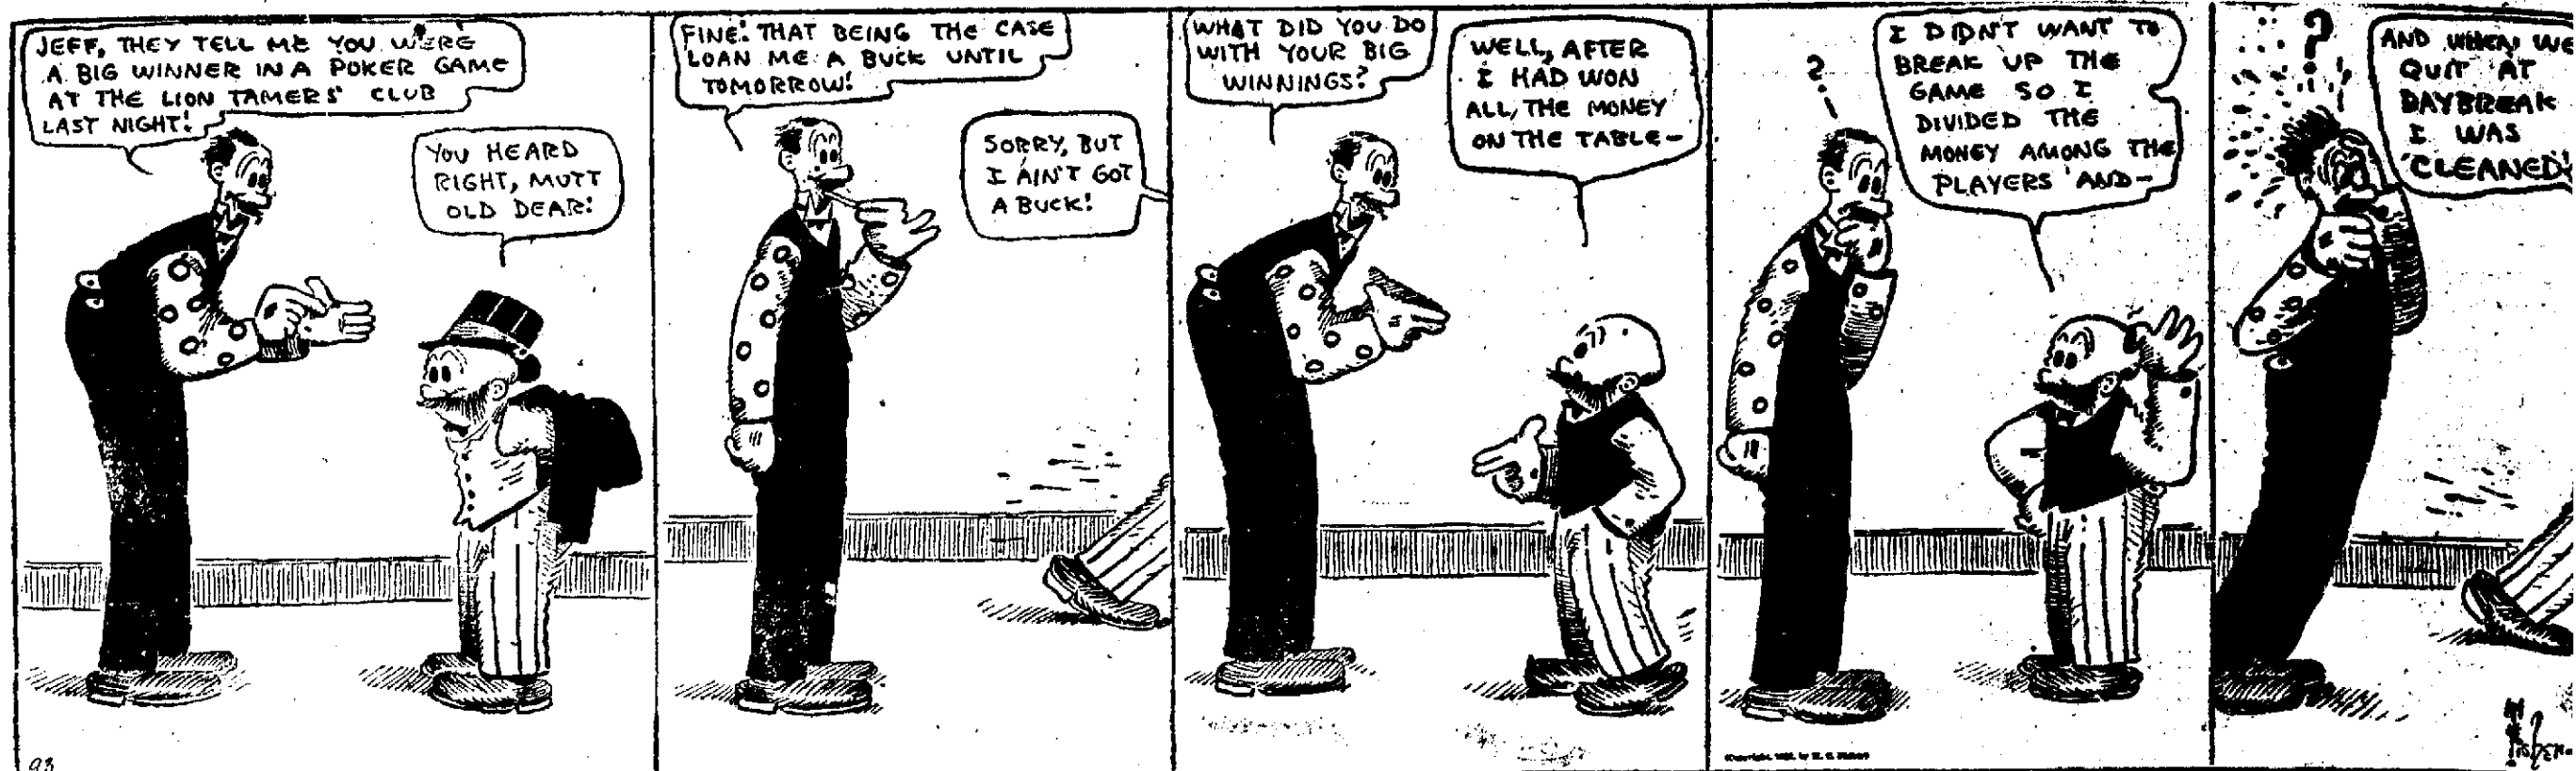

Stores will also be guarded during the day by the special detectives to stop petty thievery and to protect the cash receipts from bandits. Further additions will be made to the force of night patrolmen as calls are received from merchants.

THREE ARE CUT
Three fire departments in the city began operating with one man during the daytime and two at night, Friday.

Six regular fire fighters were released by Chief Mack in pursuance of orders received from city officials. This made necessary the change in the system.

The men released are Henry Stevenson, Ray Shuler, Ed Deubler, E. Barry, Barney Welch and John Wolfe. Chief Mack gave them to understand that they had not been dismissed from the force, but that they had merely been given temporary duty until ordered to leave of absence. He promised them that he would do everything in his power to maintain for them their seniority rights.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Mrs. O. J. Rush knows a little girl who didn't get quite the right idea about a sign which warned pedestrians at a railroad crossing near her home. She went home and said she was not allowed to cross the tracks. Asked why, she replied that a sign said, "Presbyterians Use Tunnel." She had wrong understanding about the word "Pedestrians."

W. S. Fortune went to get in the automobile he had parked at Pindlay, O.

It was locked and he wondered at that because he never locks his car. While he was asking the world at large who in all get-out had locked his car on him, a friend volunteered the information, "That's not your car, but a dead ringer for it."

Charles Fostnought, valued contributor of Scotts-Crossing, writes, "I read with much interest about Eli Gard's bull that chewed tobacco and gum, but could not spit, according to the story told in Short Shavings."

"Now we have a cat at our house. She neither smokes nor chews, but she can spit."

Scotty Alspach returned from a day's duck hunting at Cellina. He was asked if it was a good day for ducks. "I guess it was," he said. "But it was a bad day for me. All I got was wet."

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

PARTIES UNITE IN CONFERENCE

Congressional Progressives Meet to Organize

CALL BY LA FOLLETTE
Democrats and Republicans Assemble to Plan Program

(BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)
WASHINGTON — (United Press) — Progressives in congress met today in the first phase of a two-fold national progressive program which the sponsors intend shall give expression to what they believe is the prevailing political trend of the times.

Today's session, held in the office of the senate agriculture committee at 10:30 brought together the remaining members of a once famous group of congressional progressives — old Bull Moorsers, some of them — and added to them new and virile spirits from the west and middle west.

PLAN CONTROL
Party lines were not recognized in the meeting. When Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, called the meeting to order, both Democrats and Republicans were joined in an effort to bring about a solid progressive organization able to dictate the organization of both house and senate in the 68th congress, and to wield tremendous power in the shaping of legislative policies for the next two years.

A dozen or more senators and senators-elect and more than a score of house members attended the conference.

Senator La Follette was expected to be chosen chairman of the progressive organization. He called today's meeting as well as the general meeting of men and women from all parts of the country which is to be held here tomorrow as a sequel to today's meeting of congressional progressives.

WARNING GIVEN
La Follette told his colleagues at today's session that the November 7 election and events prior to it, clearly indicated nation-wide dissatisfaction with the methods of present political leaders in congress and that the people undoubtedly expected the progressives elected November 7, to put into effect a program based on public welfare, rather than partisan considerations.

Unless they are organized as before the progressives will be unable to carry out this mandate, La Follette holds and he warned his colleagues that organized or not, progressives in the national congress would be the target of more kinds of attack from the stand-pat leaders of both parties than ever before.

Today's meeting with others that will follow was expected to show whether the progressives who represent various groups of political and economic thought, can readily bury minor differences and get together on a legislative program.

La Follette and his colleagues went into the meeting disavowing emphatically any third party idea. The keynote of their activities for the next two years at least, they said, would be to translate into legislation "the will of the people, as expressed in the congressional election of November 7."

NOT DEATH TOLL AMY REACH 30

ic and fought only to escape from that trap.

Gasoline was poured over a scaffold which had been erected on one side of the structure by workmen making the repairs. The fatal glare of flames threw weird light over the scene.

The fire spread rapidly thru the entire interior of the building, spouting from windows, devouring historic archives as the machine guns continued their grim chatter. The gunners were driven out from the shelter of the palace by the blaze, but they had the crowd on the run and kept it going. Dense masses of humanity were packed in the entrances of the streets leading from the square while behind them on the bloody pavements forms lay still and others crawled painfully on all fours seeking a hiding place.

OUT FOR VENGEANCE
Soldiers and police followed the retreating rioters, leaping over the bodies of groaning wounded. They were under orders to disperse the crowd and prevent it from re-assembling. Large sections of the mob were so thoroughly frightened they thought only of flight. Isolated groups, however, set out to pillage the city.

Yelling and singing, they paraded the principal business streets shouting thru windows and hurling rocks. These men had their baptism of fire and were out for vengeance. Detachments of federal soldiers went thru the streets at the double, seeking to head them off. It was now past midnight, the glow of the burning municipal palace lighting the sky and the progress of the mobs could be traced by the sound of shooting, crashing glass, yells and screams, mingled with the shouting of orders to troops and the jingling of their accoutrements as they trotted along.

Several of these isolated groups marched to the home of Dr. Alonzo Romero, the municipal president. Their way led thru deserted streets as merchants had put up their shutters and the people were keeping out of sight. Soldiers confronted the rioters before Dr. Romero's residence. They began firing. Eight rioters fell wounded. The rest fled. At dawn, it was believed, the last of the mobs had been broken up.

LIMA TURNING POINT FOR DETROIT YOUTH, WANDERER

Max Searches for Job but Starts Home After Reaching This City

Max Staritzky, 16, Detroit, is wending his way homeward after a week's sojourn thru the state of Ohio.

It was his first trip outside the state of Michigan where he was born, partially educated and reared. It terminated rather suddenly in Lima Thursday night when police observed the youth star gazing in front of the Ohio Electric station. Telegraph wires were soon busy with messages. Max's parents were informed of his location, and Friday morning enough money to see Max safely back to Detroit was received here by police.

Max didn't exactly run away from home, he stoutly maintains. "I just left to get a job, and believe me, they're not so easy to get," he explained.

"I ain't got no trade. That's the trouble. There's all kinds of work if you know how to do something," he says his experience has taught him.

"I got a younger brother and the kid's making good. Wish I was too. He went away from home a year ago and now he's coming back, he writes me," Max narrates. "There ain't no work in Detroit, but I guess I'll go back anyway and start looking for a job."

Max declares he just left home and started wandering. Electric railways with their lower travelling rates made it possible for him to get to Lima with the funds he had. Cheap hotels furnished a place for him to stay.

Toledo furnished no opportunity for work. Findlay offered nothing better. Lima proved the same. Everywhere they want skilled labor, Max says, and he's not skilled yet.

But Lima did offer another attraction even if Max was forced to see it from outside the fence. "That football game Thursday was a knockout," he said enthusiastically. "The high schools here sure have got a wonderful field."

Bluem's Store

is holding high carnival in the new Doll Section tomorrow

It's as near a Fairyland as you've ever seen! The "Doll Girl" entertains---with you and 'most a thousand wonderful Dolls as her guests---

- Baby Dolls
- Girl and Boy Dolls
- Lady Dolls
- Indian Dolls
- Daddy Dolls
- Chinese Dolls
- Dutch Dolls
- Wooden Dolls
- Sunbonnet Dolls
- Animal Dolls
- Slumberland Dolls
- Puss in Boots
- Eddie Elephant
- Little Brown Bear
- Scores of Others

Never has such a sight been seen! Not only the sweetest American dolls that girls can imagine have come to Bluem's Doll Shop to await Santa, but dolls from all over the world, from China, Japan, Germany, etc.

There is Little Boy Blue in full costume, with bobbed hair that can be combed, and a beautiful Goldilocks! And there is Eddie Elephant and a book that tells you what he did, Little Brown Bear in person and his adventures in book form, and Pinky Pup, the gingham dog, and a stor bookyabout him.

Puss in Boots who is made of patent leather, and wears a suit of bright red, and who "meows" at your bidding.

The Slumberland Dolls are of gingham with muslin faces, and become a pillow when one is tired of playing and wishes to rest their head.

And beside dolls there are cradles, bright painted rubber balls, and numerous interesting playthings, including The Famous Voland Story Books, beautifully illustrated in colors.

Prices Range From 50c Up

"The Doll Girl" is a real live Dutch Doll! It is she who keeps the "Doll Shop" and learns your preference for Santas list. She'll be here tomorrow. Here is her letter.

The Doll Shop
Bluem's Store

Dear Kiddies---

This is a personal invitation to every boy and girl far and wide to attend the Doll Show tomorrow. There is every kind of doll here that little Mothers can wish---boy dolls, girl dolls, and dolls from Foreign Lands. Most all of them are beautifully dressed---with the most cunning shoes and hats,---and a few even have jackets.

Of course the girls will come in flocks to this party---and so I want to remind them here to bring their brothers! For small brothers especially, there are more interesting things than dolls---for instance Walk-A-Way and Ride-A-Way cars, the cleverest dogs and rabbits imaginable,---and varnished sturdy rubber balls for indoor games.

I'll be here from early morning till late night---to show every kiddie that comes what wonderful dolls are here---quite the biggest show of them in town,---and so many different kinds! And you might whisper to mother that BLUEM'S DOLLS are LOWER! She will understand.

Do come---early!

BACK TO AUCTION DANCE HONOR

Highest Bidder Will Lead Benefit Party Grand March

DONATIONS FLOOD CHIEF

Response to Emergency Situation
Grows Stronger

"Who bids?"
Such will be the cry that will reverberate thru the third floor ball room of the Knights of Columbus recreation building Saturday night, before the festivities begin.

Chief John Mack of the Lima fire department, whose sonorous voice has directed the attack upon gnawing blazes for more than 25 years in Lima, will for a moment become an auctioneer.

Obsessed with the idea that he must do everything in his power on behalf of a department stricken by financial panic, Mack is exerting every ounce of his energy to secure funds to pay his men, and incidentally members of the police department as well.

NEW SCHEME
He hit upon a new scheme: Friday when the response to a ticket sale for a benefit dance to be held at the Recreation building Saturday night was overwhelmingly encouraging.

"We will have a grand march," the chief announced, "if those who were kind enough to provide the dance benefit for us are willing. And to the person who is most eager to assist my boys will go the honor of leading the procession."

"We will auction off the right to lead the grand march. To the person who bids most for the honor will go the supreme mark of distinction of the evening."

Mack is working strenuously to give Lima perfect fire protection. He has been forced to cut six men from his department. He is still studying the problem of providing the proper protection for the city and avoiding further cuts in his department.

He was warm in his praise of people of the city who have assisted his endeavors in a concrete manner. "I can't tell you how my boys appreciate their gifts," Mack said. "The best way to show it is by giving the city the best they have. And you can take it from me that the boys are overlooking no opportunities to do their share, even though their numbers have been diminished."

Mack's enthusiasm mounted to a high pitch Friday when gifts of $25 from Williams and Davis, $10 from Owen Brothers, and others were tendered him for the safety fund.

BUY IN QUANTITY
At the same time, he announced that tickets for the Saturday night benefit dance are bringing unprecedented prices. The Solar Refining company gave fireman a check for $200 in payment for 150 tickets for the dance. The Lima Stone company purchased $25 worth. The Lilly White Oil company and the Ohio Power company each purchased $10 worth. Jim Mackenzie paid $5 for one ticket. Likewise with the Graham Ice Cream company.

While the benefit dance is being promoted, Mack is also bending his energies to solve the problem of providing the six men cut from his department, with work. As a last resort, a rotary system of operation will be employed by the department with six different men on leave once a month. Mack is also seeking work for the men.

He expects to have his plans complete by the time commission meets Monday night. At that time he will seek sanction of his plans.

WEATHER KID PIGSKIN FAN

Ted changed his plans for Thanksgiving Day and attended the Central-South football game instead of devoting all his time to social calls, as intended.

"I was something new to him and he became a real fan, under the impetus of the excitement uncorrupted. Determined to be in trim for participation in the great game next year, he has already taken up the work of practice and will be here with bells on when the pigskin season comes again, if his interest wanes."

The weather forecaster is having a difficult time of it deciding just what he wants to do about the brand of conditions dished up. His moods are changeable. He came thru with a little rain as an aftermath of Thanksgiving and was in a threatening state of mind all day Friday.

Generally fair tonight and Saturday; colder tonight and Saturday in east and south portions. Weather fortune always was fickle.

PENCIL MANUFACTURERS PLAN DOWNTOWN OFFICE AS PLANT IS BUILDING

Executive offices of the Stull-Boylson Co., manufacturers of pens and pencils, will be opened at 108 W. Market-st in the rooms formerly occupied by Lloyd B. Apples, it was announced Friday.

These offices will be maintained until the building being constructed on Water-st is completed. The offices will be opened within the next few days.

Negotiations with one of the largest manufacturing and distributing houses in the United States are now under way. E. J. Boylson, vice-president, said Friday.

This company employs more than 500 traveling representatives and should a contract be signed it will mean the sale of large numbers of pencils and a rapid expansion of the plant here, Boylson said.

Both Boylson and A. E. Stull, president, have moved to Lima and will be in active charge of the plant organization. Stull has leased property at 216 Lincoln-av from the E. Webb Co., and will move his

ELEVEN MEN DROWN WHEN STEAMER SINKS

SHIP GOES DOWN DURING GALE

Dashed to Pieces Against Breakwater in Lake Superior

NINE REPORTED DROWNED

Lifeboat Wages Hard-fought Battle Against High Seas

DULUTH, Minn. — (Associated Press) — Captain Nason Bernard and ten members of the crew of the Canadian steamer Maplehurst perished during a severe gale early today when the ship, after being beaten against the lower part of the breakwater at the west end of the Portage Lake canal, Lake Superior, sank in 25 feet of water, according to a telephone message to The Associated Press from the Calumet, Michigan, News.

CALUMET, Mich. — (Associated Press) — Captain Nason Bernard and six members of the crew of the Canadian steamer Maplehurst lost their lives early today when the ship broke up a mile west of Portage Lake canal during a heavy gale. Nine others of the crew were rescued, one at a time, jumping from the bridge into a lifeboat.

Besides Captain Bernard, the dead included Chief Engineer Dunn of Kingston, Ont., and First Mate Frank Smith of Brewer Mills, Ont. Names of the others were not obtainable this forenoon.

The rescued were Second Engineer William Fauve, Jean Duval and Henry Duval, all of St. Vothique, Ont.; Frank Robreque, Calumet du Lac, Ont.; Frank Marshall, R. Marshall and Thomas Brown, all of Montreal, and H. Burch and Harry Murray, of Kingston, Ont.

DECLINE TO JUMP

According to the coast guard service Captain Bernard and the six others lost their lives because they declined to jump from the bridge.

The rescue was effected in the teeth of a gale of hurricane proportions. The lifeboat ran alongside the ship time and again only to be washed back. The men were taken off one at a time, jumping from the bridge into the lifeboat.

The Maplehurst, 200-feet long with an iron hull was bound from Lorain, Ohio, to Port Arthur with 1,800 tons of coal. She sank in 25 feet of water and this forenoon only her funnels are visible above the surface.

RETIRED BUSINESS MAN DIES OF AGE INFIRMITY

Patrick H. Manning, 78, retired business man, died Friday at 10 a. m., at his home, 722 N. Elizabeth st., from the infirmities of age. He was for many years a resident of this city, engaged in the management of a feed store, but moved to Columbus some time ago.

He returned to Lima six weeks ago. Manning is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Sadie Conhalm, of St. Paul, Minnesota. Funeral arrangements are incomplete, pending the arrival of the daughter.

Mrs. John O'Neill, 1102 N. Main st., Lima and C. D. Manning, Toledo, are sister and brother of the deceased.

TWO TAKEN BY POLICE

B. C. Clo, 40, of 119 Water-st., and James Reese, 50, of 715 Sugar-st., were arrested late Friday on a charge of disorderly conduct, following an alleged battle at the place where Clo resides.

GIRL MURDERED

Kentucky Woman Suspected of Killing Sister-in-Law

CARLISLE, Ky. — (United Press) — Police grilled Mrs. Hattie Abner, 38, today in connection with the shooting of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Thelma Swartz, 18.

Clinton Bayton and Roy Herndon, hunters, testified they saw Mrs. Abner chase the girl into a cornfield and fire three shots into her back.

Mrs. Abner then jumped into a well, the hunters said. She was rescued against her will and taken to jail. The women lived in the same house. Mrs. Swartz has been married four years.

FRANCE CLINGS TO HER SWORD

Must Remain Ready for War, Clemenceau Says

GERMANY IS STILL FEARED

Ex-Premier Explains Situation in New York Speech

(BY A. L. BRADFORD).

NEW YORK.—(United Press).—France must remain armed until there are guarantees that no nation such as Germany can run amuck and shatter the peace of the world.

This is the substance of Georges Clemenceau's first message to America, as uttered by him in a speech at the New York city hall Saturday, shortly after he landed from the liner Paris.

Eighty-one years old, muffled in a great coat, peering out under his hat with shrewd twinkling eyes, the Tiger or the father of victory, as he is sometimes called, came up the bay aboard the municipal launch Macon with the air of a one-man army, came to conquer the sympathies of America for his beloved France.

He parried the questions of newspaper reporters with keen wit refusing to put himself on record as saying anything of importance, until the time came for his formal speech at the city hall.

SCENE OF LANDING

Sitting on the little boat surrounded by official greeters and newspaper men, he scanned the towers and minarets of lower Manhattan with the gaze of an old campaigner viewing a fortress that is to be stormed. He radiated energy and fire as he stepped ashore at the Battery and heard the voice of New York in the cheers of the crowd, swelling up from the throng packed tightly behind police lines, echoing from the walls of the dizzy structures in the background. Many distinguished visitors have landed at that spot since Europe began sending dignitaries to America, but none of them with a more difficult task than that of the aged war premier—that of winning America while the present political powers of France are shooting shafts of criticism at her.

Clemenceau entered an open automobile responding to the applause by raising his gray gloved hand to his hat brim a few times in a semi-military manner. The canyon of lower Broadway to City Hall Park, was traversed quickly and there the Tiger was welcomed by acting Mayor Murray Hulbert.

Outside in Plaza, mounted policemen sat on their horses, troopers stood at attention and walls of blue coats held back the crowd that pressed to see the old man—a man who left New York more than 50 years ago a humble, unknown school master.

EXPLAINS HIS MISSION
When Hulbert concluded the Tiger swung into his speech—eloquent praise of America in the war, reference in the bloody fields on which Americans and Frenchmen fought shoulder to shoulder in 1918 and in the revolution, and finally the firm declaration that America must understand that France cannot throw away her sword, that she must keep it, unsheathed until the peril is past. He explained his mission in these words:

"One morning I was in my private house bordering on the sea on the other side of the water when I received bad news from America. I heard bad names. We were called imperialists and militarists. I think that is horrid and I thought I had better go and tell them how things happened to pass and to show them that their judgment was not correct."

His address, which was heard by former officials of the government, representatives of the present administration and others, was a simple, direct statement of the reasons why France must remain in readiness for war.

"We have had a terrific war, the greatest war that ever was in the world," he said. "Men fell by hundreds of thousands in that war, and we waited very long, sometimes, and we looked around to see if some help would not come."

AMERICAN HELP

"Help did come, and it came magnificently, I must say, in the shape of the American soldier. I can speak of it as having seen it on the fields."

"For over 50 years, I have been mixed up with all of the worst crises of France. Think of that! In my own life I have seen my country invaded twice by Germans. I am the only survivor of those who protested at the assembly at Bordeaux against the invasion."

"I don't want to see that invasion repeated."

"I would not permit any one to tell me that I had too many soldiers or too few soldiers, unless they succeed in some way in giving guarantees; then only with the greatest of pleasure would I dissolve the French army."

"Will you Americans show us similar feeling? We must defend ourselves."

GOES TO GIBSON HOUSE

After the speech, he re-entered the open car and with a police escort sped up town to the residence of Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, where he will remain during his stay in New York. The crowds thinned out a few blocks from City Hall and he was un-noticed during the ride. Only a handful was on hand at the Gibson residence, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson meeting him at the door. The route from the city hall to the Gibson residence lay thru Greenwich Village, where decades ago Clemenceau lived as a teacher of French. He manifested intense interest in old landmarks that were pointed out to him and turned in his seat to look at the scenes identified with his former life in this country.

Judging from his opening address, the former premier will emphasize that the achievements of the Paris peace conference should be supported, will stress the German menace to France and urge that French safety be guaranteed by some agreement similar to the American-French-British treaty which was drawn up at Versailles but rejected by this country later. Clemenceau's arguments Saturday were closely akin to those of Premier Briand, when he said, at the Washington arms conference, that France could not reduce her army of 800,000 men—the biggest in Europe, because of the German menace.

GERMANY LEADS IN LITERACY

World Figures Compiled by American Legion Commission

U. S. IS ELEVENTH IN LIST

Six Per Cent of Yankees Shown To Be Illiterate

INDIANAPOLIS. — (United Press).—Germany, whose autocratic ambitions the members of the American Legion helped to crush, now leads the world in literacy. This discovery was made by the Legion's Americanism Commission according to a statement made public today by Garland W. Powell, national director of the commission.

The United States, which has boasted of its public schools, is found by the Legion to be eleventh on the literacy list of leading nations, the statement says.

Countries which have fewer illiterates than America, according to Powell, are, in relative order, Germany, Denmark, Switzerland, Holland, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Scotland, England and Wales and France.

The estimate of the 1929 census showing more than five million persons or six per cent of the American population, is too low, Powell states, because a confession of illiteracy to a census taker was necessary to enroll the person in the list of those who can neither read nor write. This made it easy for the illiterate to conceal his ignorance, since there was no test of literacy. A person who could read and write only a few words was not classified as an illiterate.

In twelve states, the total gain in literacy was 117,344 during the period between 1910 and 1920. These states according to the Legion, are for the most part, those which have received the greatest influx of immigrants during the last decade.

LEGION APPEALS

"The American Legion is appalled at the discovery of America's low standing among the great powers of the world in point of literacy," the Legion's Americanism director stated. "The correction of this deplorable state of affairs will be one of the foremost activities of the Americanism Commission."

Among the first steps which the Legion will take are the holding of an American Education Week, December 3 to 9 inclusive, and the undertaking of a fight for total exclusion of immigration for a period of five years. The Legion's hope is to eliminate illiteracy by 1927, according to Powell.

Starting Sunday, December 3 with sermons by ministers of all denominations, the Legion's week will be featured with addresses before civic bodies and in all schools. Speakers will touch on patriotism, naturalization of immigrants, respect to the flag, better pay for the teacher, better equipment for the school and physical education. Thursday, December 7, has been designated as "Illiteracy Day."

In cooperation with the National Education Association the Legion has adopted as its slogan "Adopt an Illiterate Today" recommending that its members and other patriotic citizens teach immigrants to read and write and to make them familiar with American history, American institutions and system of government.

The Legion's attention was first called to the condition of illiteracy existing in this country by the results of the psychological test of the Army draft, Powell said. These tests showed that out of 1,552,258 persons examined, 24.9 per cent could neither read nor write.

Professors' Pay Too Small, Eugenics Authority Says

(By GENE COHN)
- BERKELEY— (Special) —Birth bonus to encourage the breeding of brains!
From Professor Samuel J. Holmes, national authority on eugenics and heredity, head of the zoology and biology departments of the University of California, author of "The Trend of the Race," and a dozen other works, comes this carefully considered proposal to governmental bodies and society in general.

That is in an imperative social duty to financially aid or reward parents of superior intelligence, as a means of encouraging them to bring children into the world, is not only the belief of Dr. Holmes, but of eugenicists throughout the nation who are issuing warnings that brain peo-

Here are some of the somewhat startling discoveries that brought from Professor Holmes his suggestion:

That groups of young college professors' wives are being forced by economic pressure to practice birth control.

That the people of inferior intelligence are having too many children and those of superior heredity too few or none at all.

That some eastern colleges have actually urged unmarried men to take teaching positions because of poor pay.

"In other words we are actually putting a premium on childlessness," declares Professor Holmes. "A group of University of California professors' wives have drawn up budgets showing that they cannot decently rear children on the money received. Many of them can scarcely dress in the fashion their positions demand. Yet these are the very people who should be producing our future intellectual classes.

"The greatest national possession is its best blood. That is what state and national governments should realize and those intellectually superior ones who bear children should be financially rewarded—not as charity or gratuity, but because it's as much of a necessary investment as anything else they spend money for, and a greater investment than 99 per cent of their others.

"It is a critical situation, and in nothing its seriousness I do not speak alone but the voice of the leading eugenicists and biologists echo what I say. It calls for a remedy. We cannot let it pass unnoticed unless dire consequences come.

MUST FIND REMEDY

"Unless something is done the best blood of the nation will be eliminated within a few generations.

"We are literally breeding out our history."

A similar situation is seen by Prof. Louis Terman, famed psychologist of Stanford University, whose researches show that the chances for unusual children who might become great men and women are growing gradually less.

Just what the wives of professors have to cope with is outlined by groups of University of California women.

Eight of these wives have compiled budgets, based on reports of many others. They include Mrs. Dorothy Hart Bruce, wife of Prof. Harold Bruce, of the English Department; Mrs. G. P. Adams, Mrs. C. H. Bell, Mrs. E. C. Tolman and others who have married men important in college life.

Their conclusion is:
 "The only economy which in time enables us to live on our salaries is to have no babies."

The report continues: "One college couple, with a baby, cooks, eats and sleeps in the same room. One faculty woman has worn the same winter hat for seven years. Two have worn the same cape for 11 years. A woman with a child of 12 is still wearing her wedding trousseau. Wives of professors are doing all their own washing and that of their children. Many cannot afford the books they need for research and entertainment. Many have to use substitutes for butter;

others cannot afford eggs for months at a time when prices are high."

"And yet," sums up Professor Holmes, "we hear of the government and state carrying on campaigns for better babies. We get neither quantity nor quality.

"This sort of propaganda has been carried much too far, for while the people that should be having families are refusing to do so, those who shouldn't have are swamping the country with their offspring.

"We are threatened with breeding out our brains."

NO SUMS SAVED BY ROAD TESTS

Use of Concrete Eliminated From Construction Cost

THICK LAYER UNNECESSARY

Proved by Extensive Experiments in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. — (United Press) — The construction of hard roads has become a science in Illinois.

In the midst of a road building program calling for the expenditure of upwards of $150,000,000, the division of highways has carried on experiments that within a very short time are expected to revolutionize road building in the United States.

On a two mile stretch of road near this city the division for the last two years have carried on these experiments. In this stretch were fifty-five different types of hard road. For six weeks—day and night—heavy trucks pounded over these road sections, while engineers noted the effect upon the different types.

The first radical change was made early this year in the type of concrete road then being built in the state. The tests on the experimental road proved conclusively that concrete roads seven inches thick were as durable as those eight inches thick. Consequently, the specifications were changed to call for seven inches of concrete instead of eight inches. The state was saved thousands of dollars.

WEAK ON EDGES
Further tests disclosed that concrete roads as being constructed in Illinois were weakest on the edges. The problem then arose of strengthening the edge without increasing the cost of the pavement. Experimental stretches were built on the test road that were nine inches at the edge and grading to six inches two feet from the edge. The center of the road was reduced from seven inches to six inches. This experimental stretch withstood every test and the specifications again were changed. It is estimated, this change saved the state between $1,500 and $2,000 a mile.

Frank T. Sheets, superintendent of highways, says the experimental road near this city has saved the state of Illinois $4,000,000 to date.

The division of highway engineers are not satisfied to halt here but are continuing their experiments and hope to secure the perfect road before they quit.

ENGINEERS ON WATCH
Hundreds of road engineers from practically all states in the Union have watched the results of the tests on the experimental road and undoubtedly will change the specifications in their states.

Because of the nature of its soil, the state of Illinois is firmly sold on the concrete road. Experiments have proven it is the only type that will stand on the Illinois loam.

So far this year the state has constructed 615 miles of pavement and with seasonable weather the figure will reach 700 before winter stops the work. Governor Len Small promised the voters 1,000 miles of pavement in 1922, but the rail and coal strikes reduced the figure.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT FOR FIRST NATIONAL IS POSTPONED TO DECEMBER 8

Absence from the city of two of the most prominent directors, caused postponement of the regular monthly meeting of the First National Bank directors, Friday. Rumor had forecasted the election of a new president at this meeting for this conservative old banking house. Among directors mentioned for the high honor were First Vice President Dan M. Morris, now Acting President, and George E. Bayly, president of the Wheatley Finance company.

At the executive offices of the bank, Friday, no information would be given out concerning any reorganization, more than the bare statement that the meeting had been postponed until next Friday, December 8th.

NEW SPEED RECORD SET BY STEAMER MAJESTIC

NEW YORK — The White Star liner Majestic, largest ship in the world, has established a new speed record for crossing the Atlantic, according to reports reaching here today.

The Majestic which left here November 25, arrived in Cherbourg today, making the trip in five days, six hours and 13 minutes an average of 24.56 knots an hour.

The previous record, made by the Mauretania last summer was five days eight hours and nine minutes. The Majestic was fitted with three new propellers just before its trip.

MURDERED GIRL'S BODY FOUND

Young Woman Strangled to Death in New Jersey

PASSAIC, N. J. — (United Press) — The body of an unidentified 19-year-old girl, believed to have been strangled to death, was found today near the hothouses of the Julius Roehr's nursery at Wallingford.

Martin Polack, employed at the nursery, discovered the body, he told the police.

Authorities believe that the girl was brought to where she was found and after having been criminally attacked, was choked to death.

The girl was dressed in black. Police Chief John Hartfield, of Wallingford, questioned the owner of the nursery who told him that at about 10 o'clock last night he heard what he thought were three shots followed by sounds like the cry of a child.

Examination of the body showed that besides being strangled and outraged the girl had her jaw broken. Her hat and a wig were found about

ITALY SEEKS TIES WITH ENGLAND

Alliance is Openly Solicited, Rome, Correspondent Says

WAR STRENGTH IN VIEW

Completely Reverses Former Attitude Toward Britain

ROME.—Italy is frankly and openly soliciting an alliance with England.

From leading statesmen like, Nitti, who desired such a line-up merely as a general matter of European policy, to militarists, like General Benicivenga, frankly want an English alliance for the strength it give Italy in another war this demand is now coming from nearly all classes.

What the precise attitude of the Italian government may be on the question is not yet clear.

No secret is made by the supporters of this idea of the degree of isolation which such an alliance would impose on France. But according to the Italian viewpoint, that is a question which regards France and not Italy.

This general solicitation and demand for an alliance with England reverses completely the general public attitude of Italy towards England of before the war. Then England was always Italy's potential menace. It was because of this menace that Italy felt largely the need of alliance with Germany.

Italy's pre-war attitude relative to England was this: Italy is essentially a maritime state, a state with very few natural resources and raw material, and a complete absence of native deposits of coal. Hence Italy's existence depends upon her maritime commerce and contact with the rest of the world. But with England controlling both entrances and outlets of the Mediterranean, namely Gibraltar and Suez, she could on a moment's notice bottle up Italy in the Mediterranean, cut her off from all foreign sources of supplies, and thus reduce her to starvation and subjugation within a few weeks.

Hence Italy's pre-war distrust of England.

Since the war Italy sees things from a different viewpoint. She feels that other nations—no matter how great they may be—have need of her just as she has need of them; and so she is frankly looking around for the best place to make an alliance.

As Europe stands today, with Germany and Russia out of the running for a long time to come, Italy's field of action is pretty much limited to France and England. Between the two she has unhesitatingly chosen the latter. Italy is very distrustful of France and a latent racial, political psychological antipathy exists which can never be overcome.

FORMER SUPREME COURT JUSTICE MAY SPEAK IN LIMA ON SHORT BALLOT

Hon. John H. Clarke, former associate justice of the United States supreme court, who resigned recently from the bench to devote the remainder of his life to travel and reading, may be heard before the Lima Open Forum in the near future in a discussion of the short ballot.

Elmer McClain, secretary of the Forum, announced Friday that Justice Clarke has been given an invitation to visit this city.

"I do not know what your plans are for the winter," McClain states in a letter to Justice Clarke, "but I do know you are interested in the gospel of the short ballot."

Justice Clarke is informed that the Lima Open Forum exists upon the New England doctrine of plain living and high thinking and that discussion is solicited on debatable questions of great public interest. It is always sought to secure the services of speakers who are authority on the questions they seek to discuss.

STRADS FOR $1.75

Inventor Says He Has Found Great Violin Secret

NEW YORK — (Special) — Has the lost secret of Antonius Stradivarius, master violin maker, been rediscovered?

Julius Horvath, after 35 years' work, asserts he has perfected a filler which again will give the world violins as only Stradivarius could make.

"When Stradivarius died in 1737," Horvath says, "his secret died with him. When I die, my secret shall be left to the whole world to use."

money. My quest for the lost secret of Stradivarius has been a hobby with me for many, many years.

"Now that I believe I have found it, I shall place my formula at the disposal of manufacturers who share with me the desire to create a typical American violin to supply a typical instrument in the face of the decreasing number of rare old violins."

Michael Banner, New York violinist, is one of many who vouch for Horvath's claims.

Recently Banner gave a private recital in which he used two different violins, one his own Stradivarius worth thousands of dollars and the other a $1.75 fiddle subjected to the Horvath process.

BELLHOP FOR DAY, LAUDS 'BOSS'

Hotel Men Observe Own Rules
Adventurer Says

"TWO BITS" STANDARD TIP

Managers Tip Own Servants—Upon Occasions

(BY DUDLEY SIDDALL)
NEW YORK (Special)—What a hotel man like when he's a guest of a host?

Does he practice what he preaches?
Is he the capacity and uniform of a bellhop? I found out. The occasion was the annual dinner of the New York Hotel Association which brought 1500 hotel men together at the Hotel Commodore here.
Here's what I learned during six days' work as a bellhop on the banquet floor:
Twenty-five cents is the standard tip.
Extra service brings extra tips, for the hotel men are both discriminating and appreciative distributors of largess.

Hotel men scorn servility to as great a degree as they reward service.
Not once during the evening was
I asked to violate any of the rules laid down for bellhops.

NO WIMONEY ROLLS IN!
My tips for the night's work totaled $6.10, a package of cigarettes, an offer of a job and one woman looked at me.

The time came from a woman who asked me to find her husband in the crowd. The glum look came from a husband, whom I towed into a telephone booth where he found himself connected with his matrimonial responsibilities.

Another husband, however, made up for it by giving me a dollar after a long and difficult quest for his wife.

H. G. Adair, service manager of the Commodore, signed me on the payroll at $35 a month.

"All tips are yours," said he. "If you're ever caught splitting with a graffing bell captain you're fired and so is he. The job should be worth from $100 to $150 a month."

He further stipulated that I "eat and sleep myself." Uniforms are supplied, repaired and pressed by the house, which maintains an employee's valet service.

COLLAR CAUSES DELAY
My badge number was 931. I changed my clothes in a clean locker room and thought I was ready for work.

But Adair discovered my collar boy James Keating out to buy another for me.

I offered Keating a 50-cent tip for the job. Nothing doing. Thus my uniform commanded professional courtesy.

"Bells," sung out my first customer. I swung around, paced smartly in approval stage manner and came to a theatre attention in front of the manager of somebody's hotel.

Casually he surveyed the pose.
He didn't like it.

"As you were!" he said. I grinned.
"That's better!" was his comment.

Then he gave me two bits for getting him a seating list.

This is lesson No. 1. From then on I concluded myself like a native of the land of the free and the home of the brave instead of a humble menial, as a willing boy who was ready to hustle, instead of a lackey.

Apparently the hotel men liked that attitude. For the quarters came fast.

PLATINUM WORK
Judging by Harry Price of the Hotel Ten Eyck at Albany, N. Y., even the seasoned manager isn't proof against the flattery of having a bellhop remember his name.

"All right, Mr. Price," I said in acknowledging instructions. Another two bits. Then he called me back.

"Say, you're a pretty lively boy," he declared as he surveyed me, appraisingly. "You may want to leave John McE. Bowman some time, and here's my card."

One thing more I learned. Bell-hops' palms don't itch. But their feet!—oh, man!

POLICE READY FOR FEDERAL TRIAL

W. Market-st Residents to Testify for Watkins, Keller

Business and professional men and women, who are leaders in Lima society, all of whom reside in the 700 block, W. Market-st., will testify on behalf of Dick Watkins and William Keller of the Lima police department, Monday in Federal court at Toledo, the defense announced Friday.

At that time, Watkins and Keller will be required to answer charges of violating the national migratory bird act.

The men were informed Friday morning to appear in Federal court with their witnesses, Monday.

Their case is the outgrowth of a complaint which called them to the W. Market-st. block to eradicate nuisances caused by birds in the neighborhood. The police say they shot blackbirds. Charles Haines, deputy game warden, charges them with killing a number of martens. F. D. Carpenter, W. L. MacKenzie, Frederick Seymour and Mrs. Grace Hollister are among those who will testify in behalf of the policemen.

PLANS MATURE FOR TAG DAY EVENT IN DELPHOS

Dr. P. G. Maurer, president of the Delphos Kiwanis club and B. L. Jauman are paving the way for a Tag Day to be held in Delphos December 9, for the benefit of St. Rita's hospital, Lima.

Sale of the tags will be in charge of the Catholic Daughters of America. Mrs. T. P. Snyder, grand regent, will name her committees to conduct the sale after maurer and Jauman submit their plans.

CRAIG TO BE TRIED ON CHARGE OF CONTRIBUTING

Trial of Russell Craig, 22, of 659 S. Main-st., on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a girl of 17, will be held before Juvenile Judge Jesse H. Hamilton, Friday afternoon.

Craig was arrested by the police department at the request of Mrs. Nettie Miller, juvenile court officer, being denied his guilt when arraigned several days ago.

The girl, a ward of the court, is a former inmate of the girls' school in Delaware. Craig is said to have induced her to remain away from home over night in his company.

JUDGE BECKER, BAILIFF BOYD, CHAMPION HUNTERS

Judge Fred C. Becker and M. P. Boyd, bailiff in common pleas court, claim the rabbit hunting championship of the county building, based on prowess in the field, Thanksgiving day.

The two spent the day hunting near Kossuth and succeeded in shooting eight cotton tails.

WORCE SPLITS CHURCH, STATE
Bishop Piqued Over Excommunication Proceedings
(BY MILTON BRONNER)
LONDON — (Special) — Shall the church or state rule in England the matter of divorce? The Anglican Church, which has official status, forbids the remarriage of divorced persons. The civil authorities permit such marriages. Both civil and church heads today are demanding a showdown on the question and the Duke of Marlborough, former husband of Consuelo Vanderbilt, is the center of the unique tilt.

It all started when Consuelo divorced Marlborough. Marlborough then married Miss Gladys Deacon, also an American heiress.
The Bishop of Oxford immediately declared Marlborough could not be a communicant of the Church of England and barred him from attending the Oxford Diocesan Conference of which Marlborough is a member by hereditary right.
Marlborough, who he cared little about the right of attending the conference, was notified when he was barred. He's now demanding that the church recognize him as a communicant.
Marlborough and his friends maintain that the Church of England, which is supported by the state, is refusing to recognize laws passed by the state and especially laws passed by Parliament, in the upper house of which bishops of the Established Church sit as hereditary legislators.

BUILDING NEW ARMORY CLEVELAND. — Work has been started on the construction of a new state armory here to replace the one of the Cleveland Grays, which was burned the winter of 1921. Col. H. P. IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR
Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. Thus sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.
Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.
You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.—Adv.

Thousands Have High Blood Pressure And Don't Know It
Symptoms are Dizzy Spells, Shortness of Breath and Sleeplessness
A very successful remedy for high blood pressure is known to pharmacists as NORMA, and during the past year the demand for it has increased tremendously.
A Buffalo physician devoted his talents to a close study of this altogether too common condition and the result is a prescription now sold under the name of NORMA that is for high blood pressure only.
When high blood pressure is lowered, it is generally conceded by competent authorities that ailments caused by it, such as nervousness, pains in the head, restlessness, hot flashes and dizzy spells will cease to occur.
NORMA reduces high blood pressure and when that abnormal condition is overcome, freedom from the ailments mentioned above quickly follows.
Green's Public Square Dispensary NORMA—so do reliable pharmacists everywhere.

Dependable Watches
That carry the name Longines, Howard, Hamilton, Illinois, Waltham and Elgin on the dial are the ones you are interested in. ## POLICE READY FOR FEDERAL TRIAL

W. Market-st Residents to Testify for Watkins, Keller

Business and professional men and women, who are leaders in Lima society, all of whom reside in the 700 block, W. Market-st., will testify on behalf of Dick Watkins and William Keller of the Lima police department, Monday in Federal court at Toledo, the defense announced Friday.

At that time, Watkins and Keller will be required to answer charges of violating the national migratory bird act.

The men were informed Friday morning to appear in Federal court with their witnesses, Monday.

Their case is the outgrowth of a complaint which called them to the W. Market-st. block to eradicate nuisances caused by birds in the neighborhood. The police say they shot blackbirds. Charles Halney, deputy game warden, charges them with killing a number of martens.

F. D. Carpenter, W. L. MacKenzie, Frederick Seymour and Mrs. Grace Hollister are among those who will testify in behalf of the policemen.

PLANS MATURE FOR TAG DAY EVENT IN DELPHOS

Dr. F. G. Maurer, president of the Delphos Kiwanis club and B. L. Jauman are paying the way for a Tag Day to be held in Delphos December 9, for the benefit of St. Rita's hospital, Lima.

Sale of the tags will be in charge of the Catholic Daughters of America. Mrs. T. P. Snyder, grand regent, will name her committee to conduct the sale after Maurer and Jauman submit their plans.

CRAIG TO BE TRIED ON CHARGE OF CONTRIBUTING

Trial of Russell Craig, 22, of 659 S. Main-st., on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a girl of 17, will be held before Juvenile Judge Jesse H. Hamilton, Friday afternoon.

Craig was arrested by the police department at the request of Mrs. Nettie Miller, juvenile court officer, Craig denied his guilt when arraigned several days ago.

The girl, a ward of the court, is a former inmate of the girls' school in Delaware. Craig is said to have induced her to remain away from home over night in his company.

JUDGE BECKER, BAILIFF BOYD, CHAMPION HUNTERS

Judge Fred C. Becker and M. F. Boyd, bailiff in common pleas court, claim the rabbit hunting championship of the county building, based on prowess in the field, Thanksgiving day.

The two spent the day hunting near Kossuth and succeeded in shooting eight cotton tails.

DIVORCE SPLITS CHURCH, STATE

Man Piqued Over Excommunication Proceedings

(BY MILTON BRONNER)
LONDON — (Special) — Shall the church or state rule in England in the matter of divorce?
The Anglican Church, which has official status, forbids the remarriage of divorced persons.
The civil authorities permit such remarriages.
Both civil and church heads today are demanding a showdown on the question and the Duke of Marlborough, former husband of Consuelo Vanderbilt, is the center of the unique tilt.

It all started when Consuelo divorced Marlborough. Marlborough then married Miss Gladys Deacon, also an American heiress.

The Bishop of Oxford immediately declared Marlborough could not be a communicant of the Church of England and barred him from attending the Oxford Diocesan Conference of which Marlborough is a member by hereditary right.

Marlborough, who he cared little about the right of attending the conference, was nettled when he was barred. He's now demanding that the church recognize him as a communicant.

Marlborough and his friends maintain that the Church of England, which is supported by the state, is refusing to recognize laws passed by the state and especially laws passed by Parliament, in the upper house of which bishops of the Established Church sit as hereditary legislators.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Men-tho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. Thus sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Men-tho-Sulphur at any drug store.—Adv.

Thousands Have High Blood Pressure And Don't Know It

Symptoms are Dizzy Spells, Shortness of Breath and Sleeplessness

A very successful remedy for high blood pressure is known to pharmacists as NORMA and during the past year the demand for it has increased tremendously.

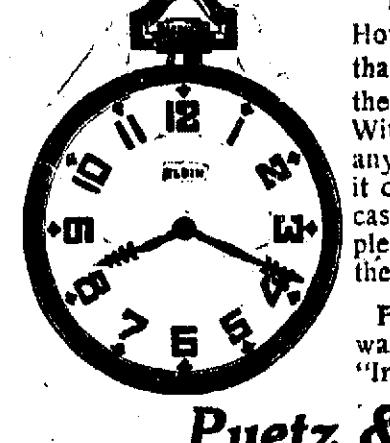

A Buffalo physician devoted his talents to a close study of this altogether too common condition and the result is a prescription now sold under the name of NORMA that is for high blood pressure only.

When high blood pressure is lowered, it is generally conceded by competent authorities that ailments caused by it, such as nervousness, pains in the head, restlessness, hot flashes and dizzy spells will cease to occur.

NORMA reduces high blood pressure and when that abnormal condition is overcome, freedom from the ailments mentioned above quickly follows.

Green's Public Square Dispensary NORMA—so do reliable pharmacists everywhere.

Dependable Watches

That carry the name Longines, Howard, Hamilton, Illinois, Waltham and Eigin on the dial are the ones you are interested in. With dependability you can select any one of these makes and have it cased in a white or green gold case of modern design. It is a pleasure to see them, to handle them, to own them.

For that every-day knockabout watch we have the old reliable "Ingersoll."

Get Ready For Winter Driving

A Short Story by A.S.M. Hutchinson

This man Hutchinson has a faculty for writing stories that get talked about. If Winter Comes, This Freedom—and now The Rough Little Girl and the Smooth Little Girl. Not to read it will be to miss the literary treat of the month—the delightfully whimsical tale of a hate that grew into a whimsical friendship. It's complete in one issue—the first of several short stories he is writing for The Journal.

Zane Grey's Greatest

The Vanishing American—the story of the love of an Indian and his desperate fight against terrible odds—is the greatest, the most vital, the most vigorous of Mr. Grey's splendid Western novels. Don't fail to read it! . . . Read also in the big Christmas Journal The Golden Adventure, a story of Paul and Philemon, by Katharine Holland Brown; The Prince Rides Home, by Frances Noyes Hart; and Dusty Star, by Olaf Baker.

A Play For Christmas

The Loveliest Thing, by Roland Pertwee, is both story and one-act play—delightful to read and jolly to act in amateur performance. Write The Journal for permission to put it on without charge. It has the real Christmas spirit. So has The Man Who Didn't Know Christmas from the Fourth of July, by Eleanor Hallowell Abbott—the story of a wonderful house party, with mistletoe and jingling bells and happy holiday romance.

Has The Church Failed?

Yes, says A. Maude Royden, greatest woman preacher in the world. So long as the churches fret themselves with piffing details and ignore the big problems of Christianity they will continue to lose the men and the women, the boys and the girls. What can the churches do? They can tackle the big issues; they can—but read her article in The Journal. It is a tocsin cry to the churches and to Christians everywhere.

Grace Richmond

Is writing for The Journal a series of articles that picture with keen humor and rare understanding the problems of every home. Read The Visits of Mrs. Trelawney. Other articles of particular interest include The Greatest Painting in the World by William Lyon Phelps; Grandma's Gone Fishing, by Sarah D. Lowrie; The Winter Baby, by Dr. S. Josephine Baker; and Harnessing Industry with the Vote, by Elizabeth Frazer.

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL

DECEMBER, 1922 THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY PHILADELPHIA 15 CENTS

The Story of Christ in One Great Painting

Look at the cover on the Christmas Journal! It is one of the most wonderful religious paintings ever made. In thirteen pictures Henry J. Soulen has depicted the whole life of Christ—Madonna and Child, Adoration of the Shepherds, Adoration of the Magi, Flight Into Egypt, Child Jesus in the Temple, Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me, Jesus Writing on the Ground, Procession Through Jerusalem, Mary Magdalene's Box of Precious Ointment, Sermon on the Mount, Last Supper, Christ Before Pilate, Golgotha. There are three other great paintings in this issue—each one worthy of framing—Raphael's Sistine Madonna; The Sermon on the Mount, by Copping; and the Friend of the Lowly, by Lhermitte.

For Women's Clubs

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter herself, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, has written The Citizenship Program in The Journal's notable series of programs for your woman's club. In December.

tures—in every smart new shade so popular this season—included are beaded Dresses, embroidered Dresses and ribbon trimmed effects—every Dress an exceptional value—and all at the one price—$16.95.

New Coats and Wraps Have Been Added to Our Already Large Stocks

Early in the season each of these Coats would have been priced a great deal higher than they are now. Our buyers went to New York last week to select the newest and the best Coats they could find—every one conforming to "Gregg's" standards of quality—and by taking a great many styles, Blouse-backs, low Russian Waistline, straight Wrap effects, Capes and Draped models with paneled backs, secured a price concession which reduced their cost to you. Navy, Brown, Sorrento, Kit Fox and Black Coats are shown in such materials as Panvelaine—Meriose—Moret—Juliet—Delysia—Lustrosa—Fashiona—most of them fur trimmed, a few beautifully plain, and silk stitched or tucked.

LIFE DEPENDS ON MUTE'S FINGERS

Will Testify at Trial of Father for Murder

BOY'S TWO SISTERS SLAIN

Their Deaths Laid at Door of the Parent

KANSAS CITY — (Special) — On the fingers of 14-year-old Albert Dinella rests the fate of his father, Antonio, who is awaiting trial for the death of his two daughters.

For from these fingers will be made known the result of a test of strength between love of parent and grief over the loss of a life-long helper and companion, according to prosecuting officials.

When the case comes up in the Wyandotte-co district court, in the term opening Dec. 4, the tale of a harrowing double murder is expected to come from these fingers. For Albert can neither speak nor hear, and it is on the sign language of the deaf-mute boy that authorities will depend for the conviction—or acquittal—of his father.

Prosecuting attorneys and police believe the boy will be a favorable witness for the prosecution if he knows his father is guilty. For they point to the fact that Albert's life-long and most cherished playmate was one of the victims for whose death Antonio Dinella will be tried. Helen, the twin sister of Albert, had been the voice and ears of her brother—until one day last September when her body, hacked and mutilated almost beyond recognition, was found in a sack on a bank of the Kaw River. Only two days before, the headless body of their younger sister Florence, had been picked up by police under similar circumstances.

FIND EVIDENCE

Investigation by authorities led them to the crude shack of the children's father on the bank of the Kaw River near where it empties into the Missouri in the heart of Kansas City, Kas. They searched the home and came out, they say, with a blood-stained hammer and some gunny sacks, like those in which the girls' bodies had been found. After questioning the father they arrested him and are holding him for trial on a charge of murder. But the chief testimony in the case, police say, they have not yet gathered. That lies with Albert, the deaf-mute brother of the murdered girls.

Prosecutors point to the close affection between the boy and his twin sister, Helen, to substantiate their belief that he will prove a damaging witness against his father. Not only he and Helen played together all their lives, but the girl had learned to know and interpret Albert's thoughts in a way that he, without hearing and without speech, could not express them.

Now, without this help, Albert finds himself more handicapped than ever in his relations with his playmates. He knows the sign language, but his friends do not. He has never learned to write like other boys of his age and it has been only thru concentrated effort that he has picked up knowledge enough to print in crude letters words which he thinks.

Police believe the thought of this handicap and the memories of his sister's help and companionship will lead the boy to stand witness against his father, if he knows anything which points to his father as the murderer.

Yet, from Albert alone, no satisfaction either way can be gained. Barefoot, even in these chilly November days, he plays along the banks of the Kaw, unmindful of the important part he will take in the destiny of his father.

BRABHAM KILLED — James Geary, 24, brakeman, was killed when a train under the wheels of his train while making a coupling.

PROGRAM FOR RELIEF OF FARMERS AGREED ON

WASHINGTON. — The administration had ready today a definite program of legislation for the financial relief of farmers formulated in agreement with senate leaders on both the agriculture and banking committees and to be pressed with their support at the short session of congress. Approved at a conference yesterday between President Harding, Secretary Wallace and fifteen Republican senators, headed by Senator Lodge, majority senate leader and Senator Watson of Indiana,

Kidney Trouble?

The Kidneys are the Blood Filters — When they Weaken and Stop Up—the System Becomes Overloaded with Uric Acid.

Cincinnati, Ohio — "For about four years I suffered with my kidneys being out of order. I had severe pains thru my back just across the kidneys and I would become so dizzy at times I would have to lie down until it passed off. I also had inflammation of the bladder and suffered from burning and smarting. The excretion had a thick sediment and a very offensive odor. I suffered constantly. I tried many kidney medicines without relief until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache) Tablets. They gave me the first relief in four years. Since taking them I have not experienced any more trouble. The urine has cleared up and I am feeling just fine. I can do my work with ease and comfort. In fact, I feel like a new man. I do not hesitate to recommend Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache) Tablets to all who suffer with kidney ailments." — Wm. Johns, 254 Broad St.

Don't wait for serious kidney ailment to set in. Help your weakened kidneys with Dr. Pierce's Anuric. At all drug stores or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package. — Adv.

SENATOR AS CHIEF BUZZING IN EARS OF TRIBE

Leadership Will to McGarry by Former Head

RULES CHIPPEWA INDIANS LIKE A DIFFERENT WOMAN

Red Men Devoted to Paleface Solon

WALKER, Minn.—(Special)—When State Senator Patrick H. McGarry is hungry for whitefish, he goes out to the lawn of his home "Glenarry," and sends a green rocket.

The next morning, say his friends, he looks out over Leech Lake toward Bear Island, where the Chippewa live, and sees a flock of canoe coming toward him. They bring whitefish for dinner.

Whatever Pat McGarry wants from the Chippewas, he gets. He is Big Chief So-moo-om-mom and heir to 15 square miles and their many possessions, willed him by the late Chief Ma-jah-ga-bo of the Bear Island tribe.

And Pat a married man! But that doesn't bother the senator nor his family. His daughter, Edna, now Mrs. H. P. Rich of Seattle, Wash., was well loved by the Chippewa tribe and she, in turn, was at home with them.

WERE CLOSE FRIENDS This close friendship was the outgrowth of 25 years of good will and confidence gained by McGarry. He was the tribe's protector, when it came to trading deals, and Chief Ma-jah-ga-bo was surety against harm for McGarry and his pale-faces.

This mutual protection grew into, such deep affection that, at Chief Ma-jah-ga-bo's death recently, his will made McGarry heir to all his rights and possessions, including his 15 square miles.

Pat didn't relinquish his strange legacy. He has assumed the honor of ruling the 2000 Chippewa Indians in the three northern Minnesota reservations—although this rule is such only in name. And he has taken on himself the responsibility of caring for his greatly augmented family.

On their part the 15 square miles are ready to fulfill his wishes. McGarry can't call them by their names, but he knows their faces, for time and again have they brought him gifts from the wilderness.

It is in this way that they show their allegiance to their new chief and squaw man.

Then you have a list to starboard. Delphos shoe repairmen, who have occasion to observe this phenomena when derelicts are brought in for "calking of the plates," says the starboard side of the greater percentage of persons in affected more by the buffeting of ordinary wear and tear than the larboard side.

Sometimes a right shoe is in the last stages of dissolution and its mate almost like new, the shoemen say. There's a reason, as they say in Battle Creek. More ballast on the right side. The same injunction that applies to sleeping applies to your footwear—favor the side on which that heavy organ, the liver, is located.

Whether the aforementioned organ causes the list to starboard is a matter of conjecture, but assuredly there is something responsible for the battering received on that side in the voyage of life, the cobblers agree.

SEVEN ARRESTED IN JEWEL, FUR ROBBERY

CHICAGO — Seven members of an alleged gang of jewelry and fur thieves alleged to be responsible for robberies totalling more than $200,000 were held in custody today.

Six of the arrestees were made in Chicago and one in Pittsburgh. Police declared confessions were obtained from William Kramer and Ray Heffernan, ex-convicts.

Kramer told police that Joseph

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your kidneys occasionally if you eat too much meat.

No man or woman who eats lots of meat regularly can take a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much meat may form uric acid, which clogs the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood; then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of stinging, get about four ounces of E-Jal Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for three days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and neutralize the acids in a fine sq. it no longer causes irritation, when ending bladder disorders. E-Jal Salts is inexpensive and can be used in a delightful way. Everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby preventing serious kidney complications.

Lima Lady Says Plant Juice Has Greatly Relieved Her Catarrhal Trouble

Like a Different Woman

"I suffered from such bad catarrh in my head that I had a buzzing sound in my ears nearly all the time but your Plant Juice has worked wonders for me and the catarrh is so much relieved that the buzzing sound has left my ears."

MRS. SADIE GRAHAM

This remarkable testimonial was given to The Plant Juice Man recently by Mrs. Sadie Graham, a popular and well known lady of this city, living at 235 1/2 North Central avenue. Continuing, she said:

"I had suffered from catarrh in my head and throat for years. It made my breath so foul that I did not like to sit near anybody. I also suffered from a terrible nervous condition so that I could not sleep right and often through the day I had such dizzy spells that I could hardly sit or stand up. I couldn't eat right and simply had pains all through my body."

"I read about your Plant Juice and finally I started taking it and I will say that it worked wonders for me. That buzzing sound has left my ears and the catarrh is improved so much that my throat does not fill up anymore. I can now eat and sleep fine; the pains have left my body and, to tell the truth, I feel like a different woman. I surely want to recommend your Plant Juice to the public for it is a wonderful medicine."

Said The Plant Juice Man: "Catarrh is a terrible thing. It should not be considered lightly. In the beginning, it may be a simple condition but it grows worse rapidly until there is a constant roaring, ringing or buzzing in the ears and head; mucus continually fills up the air passages of the nose and throat; there are awful headaches, eyes grow weak and, eventually, the catarrh may spread throughout the system, affecting the stomach, liver and kidneys. My Plant Juice has given blessed relief in many cases of this trouble."

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.

Bliss, former leader of the gang was killed during a fur robbery here some time ago. He was shot by police and his body later abandoned by his companions.

Two women were among those arrested.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that the color can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.—Adv.

MR. AND MRS. N. W. CUNNINGHAM received several hundred guests at their home in Bluffton Thursday afternoon and evening between the hours of 3 and 9 o'clock in honor of their 40th wedding anniversary. Many Lima residents called at the hospitable Cunningham home to pay their respects.

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, prominent residents of Bluffton, formerly resided in Lima. They were united in marriage in Durango, Colo., November 30th, 1882, at which time Mr. Cunningham was editor of the Bluffton News.

Mr. Cunningham is a writer of considerable note and his book "A Trip Around the World," has proven very valuable to travelers. Upon their return from their trip around the world, the Cunninghams were called upon considerably to lecture on conditions as they found them in foreign countries, especially in India. Mr. Cunningham served for many years on the Bluffton school board.

Mrs. Cunningham has spoken before prominent clubs and missionary societies in all parts of the state and has been a constructive builder in woman's affairs. She was one of the organizers of the Travel club, an important factor in the intellectual life of the community.

The Cunninghams have done much to promote the social life and business interests of Bluffton and their home has been the mecca for many prominent lecturers, artists and travelers. They are members of the T and T club, one of Lima's most interesting and important organizations.

The rooms of the Cunningham home were adorned with a profusion of pink rosebuds, carnations and other blossoms for the reception Thursday.

Among Lima residents who called were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Seiridge, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Roby, Judge and Mrs. Kent W. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Harry MacDonald, Dr. and Mrs. T. R. Terwilliger, Mrs. Lulah M. Butler, Mrs. Alice M. Hill, Miss Alice M. Hill, Misses Ingabary and Helen Hoagland, Mr. and Mrs.

Miss Hazel Bowsher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowsher, Shawnee-tp. and Dewey Myers, son of Mrs. Margaret Myers, Keannette, Pa., were united in marriage Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents.

The Rev. S. D. Myers, Findlay, uncle of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony, which took place before an improvised altar of ferns and palms. Miss Evelyn Mowery, at the piano, played the wedding music.

The bride was attired in a blue satin frock and her corsage was of bride's roses.

Immediately following the service, a three course wedding dinner was served. Places were arranged for the bride and bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Bowsher, parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mowery and Miss Evelyn Mowery.

Mr. Myers and his bride will make their home in this city.

Miss Catharine Galvin, a student at Western College for Women, Oxford, will arrive in this city Saturday to visit over the week-end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Galvin, W. Market-st. Miss Galvin will have as her guests, Misses Marjorie McClintock, Mary Creigher and Dorothy Schmidt, also students at Western College.

The meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of Trinity M. E. church will be held at the church Monday afternoon instead of Wednesday, because of the Biederwolf tabernacle meeting.

Mrs. K. Paul Abt (Martha Boegel), St. Paul, Minn., arrived in this city for a visit with friends and relatives until after the holidays.

CLUB CALENDAR

SATURDAY
Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. Lush M. Butler, 2:30 p. m.
Ladies' social club of the U. C. T. to meet in the hall, afternoon.
Little Light Bearers of Trinity M. E. church, Mrs. W. R. Holdridge, 2:30 p. m.

The meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution Saturday afternoon will be of unusual interest from the standpoint of Americanization work, as Mrs. Luella Geiger Schmidt, Los Angeles, will give a talk on the "Music of the Spanish Speaking Children in America." Mrs. Schmidt was engaged in teaching in Southern California and her talk will be based on actual experience. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lush M. Butler, W. Spring-st. and will open at 2:30 p. m. promptly.

Mrs. J. K. Bannister will give a reading and Mrs. H. M. Dille will play a piano number.

The assistant hostesses will be Mrs. F. G. Borges, Mrs. Alice M. Hill and Mrs. Elizabeth P. Dickey.

A reunion of the Garrett family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roby, St. Johns-av, Thursday.

At 12 o'clock a three course dinner was served after which the afternoon was pleasantly whiled away in music and contests. Mrs. John Garrett and Mrs. Roby were the successful contestants. Out-of-town guests for the occasion included Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, Cridersville, and Mrs. Charles Davis and son, Ralph, Wapakoneta.

Miss Marjorie Vance, Delaware, will arrive in this city Saturday to visit over the week-end with Miss Rose Agarter, Lakewood-av.

Mrs. L. Friend returned to her home in Chicago after a visit with her sister, Mrs. T. R. Terwilliger, W. Market-st.

Members of the Monday Evening Bridge club entertained with an informal 1 o'clock luncheon at the Elks' Home, Friday, honoring Miss Dorothy Wheeler, whose marriage to James O. Enck will be solemnized at Christ Episcopal church, Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kerr returned to their home in Wilmington after a visit with Mrs. Kerr's mother, Mrs. Mary E. Sieber, W. Spring-st.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wendelmoot and daughter, Betty Alice and Mrs. E. E. Lehev and daughter, Donetta motored to Rockford, where they were guests of Mrs. Lehev's father, T. J. Hinkle, Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Taylor, Rice-av, entertained as their house-guests over Thanksgiving. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Battelle, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Battelle and Miss Jean Battelle, all of Detroit and Miss Sarah Taylor, Chicago.

Mrs. Helen Smith Gibbs and daughter, Josephine, Dayton, are visiting with Mrs. Gibbs' mother, Mrs. Josephine Smith, Lakewood-av, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Patterson, W. Spring-st, left for California, where they will be located during the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCullough and family, Wapakoneta; and Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Hemmer and family, Glenwood, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Kenny, S. Pine-st, over Thanksgiving.

Misses Artridge and Mary Malzen, students at the National Kindergarten and Elementary College, Chicago, are the week-end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Malzen, Brice-av.

Miss Lenore Smith, Baltimore, is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Josephine Smith, Lakewood-av.

Miss Mildred McLain, W. Kibby-st, entertained the Sans Parol club at her home, Tuesday evening. Five hundred was the diversion of the evening, honors being given to Misses Helen Ripley, Lucille Siferd and Julia Miller. At the close of the playing a dainty repast was served by the hostess.

Members present included Misses Nell Miller, Cleto White, Julia Miller, Helen Mahler, Margaret Slade, Mildred Young, Harriet McAlvain, Geneva Growdon, Gladys Leasure. Guests of the club were Misses Katherine McAlvain, Lucille Siferd and Helen Ripley.

Next meeting will be held in a fortnight with Miss Mildred Young, W. Kibby-st.

Mrs. Martha Jane Glasco, Newark, was happily surprised when a large group of relatives gathered at her home in honor of her 84th birthday anniversary, Thursday.

Music and games were enjoyed thruout the day and at noon an elaborate luncheon was served. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Leebarger and son, Melie; Harry Glasco and children, Homer and Fern, Upper Sandusky; Mrs. Etta Carter and daughter Lena, Huntsville; Miss Ruth West, Kenton; Mrs. Etta Hamilton, Bellefontaine; Mrs. Kate Hodge and son Lowell and Ezra Whisner, all of Williamstown; Mrs. Lillie Stull and son Roy, all of Ada; Mrs. Edna Stull and daughter Alice, Bluffton; Mrs. Adelle Buntan, Harry Carter, Mrs. Della Patten and sons Raymond and Virgil, all of Lima.

Mrs. Theodore Scheid, W. Spring-st, is home from Zanesfield, where she visited over Thanksgiving.

Miss Helen Meredith, W. Spring-st, is the week end guest of her parents at their home in Yellow Springs.

A very pretty Thanksgiving day occurred at the home of Mrs. F. M. Roberts, N. Pine-st, their daughter, Gertrude, came the bride of Ernest C. Gardner.

The ceremony was performed high noon by the Rev. W. H. and in the presence of the bride's relatives and friends.

The bride was given a gorgeous and her veil of tulle caught with orange blossoms carried an arm bouquet of roses.

Miss Mae Pfeiffer, the bride was attired in a frock of blue carried a bouquet of pink roses. Clarence Gardner, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

Miss Margaret Fisher, piano, played Schumann's March and Oliver Roberts sang several numbers.

At the close of the service, course wedding dinner was served. After December 1st, Mr. Gardner's bride will be at home.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I am in Cincinnati now. I came here about a week ago. Last fall I went with a young man. He lived in town and I lived in the country. He told me if I ever came to town, I should come to town Saturday evening. He told me if I should hunt him up, he would be glad to see me. I did not get out of my way. I took the hint and let him alone. In the spring, he and I got together again and I was glad to see him. Now I think I would like to go with him but I am here 150 miles away from him. Do you think it would be proper for me to start a correspondence with him?

LOVELY EIGHTEEN
D ROP him a friendly card and if the young man is anxious to renew your friendship he will send you a quick response. Be very careful what you write to him. Do not permit him to answer. Do not permit him to think that you are anxiously waiting for him to offer his attentions. Do not ask that he answer again nor do not ask that he answer your note. That is his privilege. If your friendship means anything at all to him he will take advantage of this opportunity.

Let this little experience be a good lesson to you. In the future be wise and allow your young men friends to take this initiative and "look you up." It is usually customary for a young man to call upon his girl friends.

Dear Miss Smart: I have been going with a young man for eight months and I really love him. Would it be proper to let him kiss me when he asks? Will he think that if I let him kiss me when I haven't let him kiss me before, I am giving him a special privilege? I love him and don't want him to get angry at me?

"SWEET SIXTEEN"
I shall advise you according to what your name suggests to me. Sweet Sixteen. You, doubtless, realize that it is not proper for a young girl to permit a boy to kiss her unless she is engaged to him. Your letter indicates that you are much too young to be engaged.

This boy doubtless knows that you have always been a respectable girl and that is why he admires you. Continue your friendship with him and if he expresses his love for you and asks you to become his wife then we will consider the "kissing" proposition permissible.

FOR SPORTS WEAR

The Love Bird Had Flown

BY BOB BECKLEY

After securing his passage on the Zealand, Barrett went to the office of his personal lawyer.

"Allison, I'm leaving for Europe tomorrow," he told the kind but grave old senior partner. "I'll be gone long enough to establish—ground for a suit for divorce by my wife. Desperation, of course, I want you to do everything legitimate to facilitate the action."

The old man rose hastily, agitated, profoundly troubled.

"Why, John Barrett, I didn't know—never dreamed—have you thought this over—have you considered—"

"Everything. Meanwhile see that my family has everything of mine but the bare necessities of my travel abroad. Get together with Rex Warren, my wife's lawyer. Have things go thru with as little distress to Anita as possible."

Allison drummed with his fingers. "Just a minute, Barrett. Aren't you lacking in frankness a little? I'm an old man; I can talk to you plainly."

"What am I to say to those who mention—Myra Dean? Now, Barrett, everyone knows she is going to marry too—it was in the papers. Big newspaper assignment. Far East or somewhere."

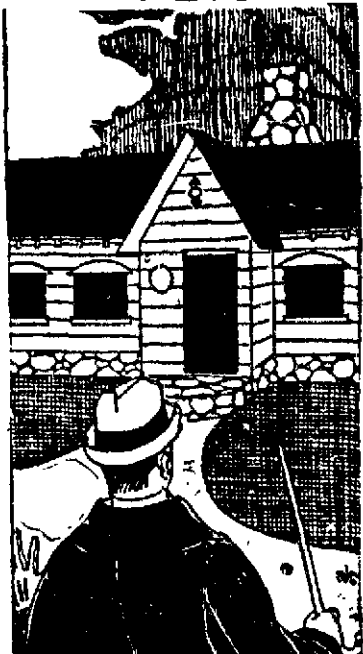

"Damn it, Allison, how dare—" "That will not answer the question tomorrow any more than it does now. People dare any gossip in such cases. I couldn't take your case on any such ground as desertion when it's known that you and Miss Dean left for Europe the same day. Why, your wife won't need to stir out of the state to bring suit."

Barrett leaped to his feet. "Miss Dean sails on the Cedric for the Balkan states. I am booked on the Zealand for Holland."

Old Allison shrugged a thin shoulder.

"Theoretically that ought to make a difference."

"You mean you don't believe me?" "I mean that others will not."

MYRA HAD DELIBERATELY RUN AWAY FROM HIM.

"Then they will have to make the best of their doubts. Goodbye!" Barrett had come so close to changing his mind under Allison's terse arguments that he rushed to Myra for the support it would give him merely to see her for a temporary farewell.

He found her little house locked, boarded up, not a soul about. She had deliberately run away from him. (To Be Continued) (Copyright, 1922)

One of the Year's Most Stupendous Productions

The picture above gives a delightful hint of what is in store for patrons of the Lyric Theatre next Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday when captivating Priscilla Dean appears as the star in one of the year's most stupendous productions, "Under Two Flags." It is appropriate to mention in this connection that for these four days The Lyric proposes certainly to give Lima amusement lovers the full worth of their money. No stage ever made could be one-thousandth part big enough to depict the costly splendor of "Under Two Flags." It's a picture as human as the call of love; as thrilling as the lightning blast; as tender as the warm kiss of a babe. Unusual, spectacular—a real "wonder production." No body can afford to miss the genuine treat which is to be found at the Lyric next Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

THE THING ON THE HEARTH

"The first confirmatory evidence of the thing, Excellency, was the print of a woman's bare foot."

He was an immense creature. He sat in an upright chair that seemed to have been provided especially for him. The great bulk of him flowed out and filled the chair. It did not seem to be fat that enveloped him. It seemed rather to be some soft, tough fiber, like the pudgy mass making up the body of a deep-sea thing. One got an impression of strength.

The country was before the open window; the clusters of cultivated shrub on the sweep of velvet lawn extending to the great wall that inclosed the place, then the bend of the river and beyond, the distant mountains, blue and mysterious, bleeding indistinctly into the sky. A soft sun, clouded with the haze of autumn, shone over it.

"You know how the faint moisture in the bare foot will make an impression."

He paused as tho there was some compelling force in the reflection. It was impossible to say, with accuracy, to what race the man belonged. He came from some queer blend of Eastern peoples. His body and the cast of his features were Mongolian. But one got always, before him, a feeling of the hot East lying low down against the stagnant Suez. One felt that he had risen slowly into our world of hard air and sun out of the vast sweltering zone of it.

He spoke English with a certain care in the selection of the words, but with ease.

It is necessary to try to understand this, because it explains the conception everybody got of the creature, when they saw him in charge of Rodman. I am using precisely the descriptive word: he was exclusively in charge of Rodman, as a jin in an Arabian tale might have been in charge of a king's son. The creature was servile—with almost a groveling servility. But one felt that this servility resulted from something potent and secret. One looked to see Rodman take his own's ring out of his waistcoat pocket.

I suppose there is no longer any doubt about the fact that Rodman was one of those gigantic human intelligences who sometimes appear in the world; and by their immense conceptions dwarf all human knowledge—a sort of mental monster that we feel nature has no right to produce. Lord Bayless Truxley said that Rodman was four generations in advance of the time; and Lord Bayless Truxley was, beyond question, the greatest authority on synthetic chemistry in the world.

Rodman was rich and, everybody supposed, indolent; no one ever thought very much about him until he published his brochure on the scientific manufacture of precious stones. Then instantly everybody with any pretension to a knowledge of synthetic chemistry turned toward him.

The brochure startled the world. It proposed to adapt the luster and beauty of jewels to commercial uses. We were being content with crude imitation colors in our commercial glass, when we could, quite as easily have the actual structure and the actual luster of the jewel in it. We were painfully hunting over the earth, and in its bowels, for a few crystals and prettily-colored stones which were hoarded and treasured, when in a manufacturing laboratory we could easily produce them, more perfect than nature, and in unlimited quantity.

Now, if you want to understand what I am printing here about Rodman, you must think about this thing as a scientific possibility and not as a fantastic notion. Take, for example, Rodman's address before the Sorbonne, or his report to the International Congress of

THE TENT-FLAP SIMPLY OPENED AND THE BIG ORIENTAL APPEARED.

Science in Edinburgh, and you will begin to see what I mean. The Marchese Giovanni, who was a delegate to that congress, and Pastreux, said that the only thing in the way of an actual practical realization of what Rodman outlined was the formulae. If Rodman could work out the formulae, jewel-stuff could be produced as cheaply as glass, and in any quantity—by the carload. Imagine it: sheet ruby, sheet emerald, all the beauty and luster of jewels in the windows of the corner drug-store!

And there is another thing that I want you to think about. Think about the immense destruction of value—not to us, so greatly, for our stocks of precious stones are not large; but the thing meant, practically, wiping out all the assembled wealth of Asia except the actual earth and its structures.

Put the thing some other way and consider it. Suppose we should suddenly discover that pure gold could be produced by treating common yellow clay with sulphuric acid, or that some genius should set up a machine on the border of the Sahara that received sand at one end and turned out sacked wheat at the other? What, then, would our hoarded gold be worth, or the wheatlands of Australia, Canada or our Northwest?

The illustrations are fantastic. But the thing Rodman was after was practical fact. He had it on the way. Giovanni and Lord Bayless Truxley were convinced that the man would work out the formulae. They tried, over their signatures, to prepare the world for it. The whole of Asia was appalled. The rajahs of the native states in India prepared a memorial and sent it to the British government.

The thing came out after the mysterious, incredible tragedy. I should not have written that final sentence. I want you to think, just now, about the great bulk of a man that sat in his big chair beyond me at the window.

It was like Rodman to turn up with an outlandish human creature attending him hand and foot. How the thing came about reads like a lie; it reads like the wildest lie that anybody ever put forward to explain a big yellow Oriental following one about.

But it was no lie. You could not think up a lie to equal the actual things that happened to Rodman. Take the way he died!

The thing began in India. Rodman had gone there to consult with the Marchese Giovanni concerning some molecular theory that was involved in his formulae. Giovanni was digging up a buried temple on the northern border of the Punjab. One night, in the explorer's tent, near the excavations, this inscrutable creature walked in on Rodman. No one knew how he got into the tent, where he came from. The tent-flap simply opened, and the big Oriental appeared. He had something under his arm rolled up in a prayer-carpet. He gave no attention to Giovanni, but he saluted him like a coolie to the little American.

"Master," he said, "you were hard to find. I have looked over the world for you."

And he squatted down on the dirty floor by Rodman's camp stool. The two men spent the remainder of the night looking at the present that the creature brought Rodman in his prayer-carpet. They wanted to know where the Oriental got it, and that's how the story came out.

He was something, something seems our newest English word to fit—in the great Shan Monastery on the southeastern plateau of the Gobi. He was looking for Rodman because he had the light—there was another word that the two men could find no term in any modern language to translate; a little flame was the literal meaning. The present was from the treasure-room of the monastery; the very carpet around it, Giovanni said, was worth twenty thousand lire. There was another thing that came out in the talk that Giovanni afterward recalled. Rodman was to accept the present and the man who brought it to him. The Oriental would protect him, in every way, in every direction, from things visible and invisible. He made quite a speech about it. But, there was one thing from which he could not protect him.

The Oriental used a lot of his ancient words to explain, and he did not get it very clear. He seemed to mean that the creative forces of the spirit would not tolerate a division of worship with the creative forces of the body—the calbata notion in the monastic idea.

Giovanni thought Rodman did not understand it; he thought he himself understood it better. The monk was pleading Rodman to a high virtue, in the lapse of which something awful was sure to happen.

Giovanni wrote a letter to the State Department when he learned what had happened to Rodman. The State Department turned it over to the court at the trial. I think it was one of the things that influenced the Judge in his decision. Still, at the time, there seemed no other reasonable decision to make.

The testimony must have ap-

COULD NOT TURN IN BED

Operation Avoided by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dayton, Ohio.—"I had such pains that I had to be turned in bed every time I wished to move. They said an operation was necessary. My mother would keep saying: 'Why don't you take Pinkham's, Henrietta?' and I'd say, 'Oh, mamma, I've tried too much. One day she said, 'Let me get you one bottle of each kind. You won't be out very much if it don't help you.' I don't know if you will believe me or not, but I only took two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine when I began to get relief and I am regular ever since without a pain or a headache."

When I lie down I can get up without help and without pain. I can't begin to tell you how I feel and look. I have begun to gain in weight and look more like I ought to. I think every day of ways I have been helped. Any one who does not believe me can write to me and I will tell them what shape I was in. I am ready to do anything I can to help your medicine."—Mrs. HENRIETTA MILLER, 137 Sprague St., Dayton, Ohio. If you have any doubt write to Mrs. Miller and get her story direct.

appeared incredible; it must have appeared fantastic. No man reading the record could have come to any other conclusion about it. Yet it seemed impossible—at least, it seemed impossible for me to consider this great vital bulk of a man as a monk of one of the oldest religious orders in the world.

Every common, academic conception of such a monk he distinctly negated. I impressed me, instead, as possessing the ultimate qualities of clever diplomacy—the subtle ambassador of some new Oriental power, shrewd, suave, accomplished.

When one read the yellow-backed court-record the sense of old, obscure, mysterious agencies moving in sinister menace, invisibly, around Rodman could not be escaped from. You believed it. Against your reason, against all modern experience of life, you believed it.

There was one man in the world that everybody wished could have been present at the time. That was Monsieur Jonquelle. Jonquelle was chief of the Criminal Investigation Department of the Service de la Surete in Paris. He had been in charge of the French secret service on the frontier of the Shan states, and at that time he was in Asia.

Another installment of the unusual mystery story will appear in our Sunday issues.

Snow Man Is Worried

BY OLIVE ROBERTS HARTON

"Hello, children! How did you get here?" exclaimed Snow Man.

The Twins climbed a mountain and before long they came to a place where there was a lot of snow.

Right near was a little house where a woodchopper lived, and out in the front yard stood a big white figure looking thoughtfully at nothing at all.

"There's Snow Man," whispered

"Hello, Billy, please be stick and straighten my hair like this."

Nancy and Nick stop where Mr. Snow Man is them.

"We're not Billy," laugh straightening his hat.

The Ship Subsidy—Clemenceau Is Criticized—Europe's Troubles, All Discussed Understandingly for School Students

When congress met in special session Nov. 20 President Harding asked the Ship Subsidy Bill's passage.

The theory of a ship subsidy is this: Every country, let's assume, needs merchant ships, under its own flag, to deliver the goods it sells to other countries and to bring back the goods it buys from them.

If a nation's ships can be run at a profit, then private concerns are sure to run them for the money there is in it.

But, if for some reason, they run persistently at a loss, private ship-owners will quit and that nation's flag will disappear from the sea—UNLESS—

Their government makes up their losses to the owners, plus enough more to pay them fair dividends. Subsidy advocates say ships are so important that it is better for a nation to do this than to lose its merchant marine.

When the United States entered the World War the government began to build merchant ships—"ferries," extravagantly, wastefully, imperially," Harding says.

The war's end found the country with a large merchant fleet, so built at a cost of $3,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000.

Since then the government has been running these vessels either directly or thru private companies acting as its agents.

The loss on them, Harding says, is $50,000,000 annually.

He wants to dispose of them to private owners. But they won't be accepted if they must be run at a loss. It is to cover this loss that the president proposes a subsidy.

He estimates it at a maximum of $30,000,000 annually.

Subsidy opponents say the plan simply is to tax the rest of the people for the shipowners' benefit. They oppose supporting any business that cannot pay its own way. Better, they argue, let the fleet go and return to the old system of doing our shipping under other flags than our own.

The commonest opinion seems to be that the Subsidy Bill may pass the House of Representatives but that its chance in the Senate is none to good.

BLAME THE TIGER HIMSELF

Ex-Premier Clemenceau of France is making speeches in the United States emphasizing Europe's need of American aid.

Personally he was welcomed warmly but much fault has been found with the European view he represents. Many Americans appear to hold Clemenceau himself, by the policies he has supported, largely responsible for the Old World troubles he describes.

Senators Hitchcock and Borah, for instance, are men of widely different ideas. Hitchcock led the fight for the League of Nations. Borah led the fight against it. Yet they agreed in criticizing Clemenceau.

Hitchcock says "France's reparations demands against Germany are impossible. Insurmountable obstacles will prevent co-operation between Americans and the French so long as the present destructive French policy prevails."

Borah says "Clemenceau brings no message except vengeance, anticipated war. The same European policies which caused conflict in 1914 are hatching fresh strife."

LADDER THREATENS KING

Parliament met in extra session to an accompaniment of startling language.

King George was present to read his usual message. There was a good deal of pomp and ceremony.

Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, referred to this as a "tomfool show."

The extra session was called to consider Irish legislation but it became evident immediately that the unemployment situation will get first attention.

"And if we don't get satisfaction," said MacDonald, "there are plenty of precedents in this country for revolution. We will have," he added, addressing the king, "to deal with you as Cromwell dealt with your predecessors."

Cromwell cut off the first King Charles' head.

It was astonishing talk for the floor of the House of Commons, considering how respectfully royalty is mentioned there, even by members who do not regard kingship very sacredly.

DIPLOMATS SOMEWHAT PERTURBED

The conference at Lausanne, Switzerland, theoretically to make peace between Turkey and Greece, but really to settle the victorious Turks' status in the Near East, is bothering the diplomats.

In fact, it means much more than the Turkish question.

Turkey wants to include Russia in the conference, since, for the time being, their interests are the same.

England's representatives argued that Russia has nothing to do with the Lausanne negotiations. Then neither has the United States, answered the Turks. The British,

French and Italians all want Americans present, even if only unofficially. So it is quite likely Russia will be admitted too.

Many diplomats think the conference will prove to be, principally, a contest between England and Turkey for control of the Dardanelles. England wants to dominate this strait as a commercially important waterway and because it opens on the route between India and the British Isles. The same strait is Russia's only sea outlet which is ice-free the year 'round.

Viscount Grey, in the English House of Lords, has given warning already of the danger of a combination between Germany, Russia and Turkey.

The present sensation of Paris is Macia Napierkowska, the Russian beauty who dances in a remarkable costume, the headpiece of which is made of glass. The remainder of the costume, of which there is little, is made of huge shells and pearls.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substance for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasy, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without trouble, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. Use and see.

"BUBBLES" COMES TO ACT IN THE MOVIES

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
MARGARET LEAHY comes from London to become a film actress. Selected by Norma Talmadge from among 80,000 contestants she is looked upon by the British as their first representative in American films.

Margaret Leahy is 20. She is five feet, five inches tall. She has dark blue eyes and light, wavy hair. She is the only child of a London couple who call her "Bubbles." Norma Talmadge says she has a perfect film face.

"I'm Irish and proud of it," says Miss Leahy. She talks with her hands and eyes, as well as with her lips.

"My first recollection is of a pretty dress," the new film actress says. "By the time I was eight I was quite a tomboy. At that age I would rather climb a tree than play with dolls."

Faurot Offers Topnotch Bill of Vaudeville

ENTERTAINERS of the finest calibre appeared at the Faurot Opera House on Thanksgiving Day, presenting a splendid variety of vaudeville attractions.

Miss Rita Gould, the headline attraction, proves one of the most striking and versatile delineators of song ever to appear in this city. Miss Gould has a wealth of vocal selections, and in her own vivid, individual manner, puts them over to the very best advantage. Her costumes, too, are quite swank, and she has the support of a clever young pianist, Miss Gould's act, to my mind, is one of the best I have seen this season.

Primrose Seaman and her company have a clever and unusual array of material, one of the hits of the piece being a delightful and realistic impersonation of Eddie Cantor. Miss Seaman has a lot of pep and personality, and at the opening appearance on Thursday made a decisive hit with her audience.

"Wine, Women and Song," Offering of Bert Smith

HARITY reigned supreme at the New Orpheum on Thursday when the first performance of the Bert Smith's final presentation in this city was given.

The well known favorites, Vi Shaffer, Sue Hale, Billy Malone and others, were very much in evidence, taking the floor in the clever musical comedy, and at intervals appearing in

Divorce Picture Presents Charming Corinne

THIS little play, "Divorce Coupons," isn't very cheerful. But it's interesting and active. And best of all, the people in it are good to look upon. Take Miss Griffith, for instance, a delightfully charming little actress, with her wide apart eyes and shapely ankles, and Holmes Herbert who plays the role of her husband, not to mention Mona Lisa and Vincent Coleman. Yes, indeed, the cast is SOME cast! The characters in this story seem to have lost that wee, nagging something we call our conscience, or at least the heroine, who is a poor but beautiful girl gets the sophisticated idea that she will vamp a rich but notorious man, and then make use of the divorce coupons which she insists shall be attached to her hands of matrimony.

Later she is married, but first she

Here's Ol' Charley Ray In Real Thriller

THE first thing to say about "Gas, Oil and Water," which stars Charley Ray, is that it fairly sizzles with suspense. The scenes are laid on the Mexican border, and when it comes to action, the plot is a regular little sleuthing tournament. You meet sleuths wherever you look. You meet them in caps, sombreros and Panamas. You meet them by ship, by automobile and by motorcycle. Also on gum shoes. At the end of the picture, you have only a generally hazy idea of what all the mystery is about, but you do realize that you're getting excited about something and that you hope somebody gets caught and you're in at the finish.

You see, Mr. Ray runs a gas, oil and water station in the little Mexi-

"Up In Clouds" Coming to Faurot

THE most gorgeous production that has ever been seen with a musical comedy is credited to "Up in the Clouds" which will be seen at the Faurot, Wednesday, December 18. Jos. M. Gaiteas who used to box with daddy until both our faces smarted.

"When I was 18 I set up a costume shop and designed gowns and then acted as the model for them. However, I like best the old, dreamy music even the I do like to dance to the 'gypsy' music of today. My pet play is 'The Maid of the Mountains' and no story can quite compare with 'Daddy Longlegs.' On the screen I like comedies best."

Miss Leahy's mother has accompanied her to America. She has relatives here whom she will visit before beginning her work in "Within the Law" which will star Norma Talmadge.

And, fellows, here was her answer to the last question, "No, I'm not engaged. I haven't even thought of anyone as yet."

The La Velos, wire walkers, may be truthfully termed as "different." Part of their allotted time is occupied with nonsensical chatter, which always creates a favorable impression with their audiences. Their wire walking is clever indeed, and as an opener, they are first-rate.

Ruth Granville, a slip of a girl with an unbelievable capacity for wind, seemingly, plays delightful airs on a saxophone, ably assisted by Mr. Hal Sanders, violinist. Her repertoire is greatly varied and her co-worker, Mr. Sanders, plays beautiful melodies on his violin, notable among them the well known and ever popular "Sous-vieux."

"A Current of Fun" winds up the program with a company of principals performing interesting experiments with electrical power. Clever comedy is provided thruout the offering, which to students of electricity, proved of interest.

well-chosen special numbers. The chorus, too, have a host of new dances and vocal numbers, and the entire performance, in fact, is one that will delight New Orpheum-goers from first to finish.

The present bill will continue in force until Sunday then the widely heralded company of twenty-five mid-gets will open a week's engagement.

announces a one-day showing of the successful film story "The Witching Hour," in which Elliott Dexter and Mary Alden are co-starred.

writes a note to her "very best friend" unwisely expounding her views on the matter. So the note is treasured and months later, plays a most important part in the proceedings.

I think it best that you know no more about the plot. Many absorbing events transpire, however, before the principals are re-united and the little wife proves to all concerned that she really didn't want divorce coupons, anyway.

Miss Griffith wears some stunning costumes; the sets and photography are creditable, and on the whole you will have seen, in "Divorce Coupons" a thoroughly satisfying production. And you'll come away from the theatre realizing that most always we all pay, men and women alike, for the Lyric again today and until Sunday.

can border town where he is at first discovered. He really furnishes the fore-said necessities to motorists, but it isn't long before you discover that he is furnishing something else to the U. S. Government.

Of course, there's a girl in the case, but the love interests are entirely subordinate to the mystery element. Quite a relief for a change, eh? What? Miss Charlotte Pierce, in the role of the heroine, does acceptable work.

The film is well acted, directed and photographed. There's plenty of action, if nothing else, and there are a couple of mad races for life and liberty that by themselves would give you your money's worth.

"Gas, Oil and Water" continues as the feature attraction today and Saturday, at the Sigma theater.

presents the big attraction is also owner of "Take It From Me." The latter is credited with having made a million dollars up to the end of last season. In an effort to out-do his former production, Mr. Gaiteas in

"Up in the Clouds" drew heavily on the fortune rolled up from the previous success with the result that the newer show cost over $150,000.00 before the curtain ascended on the initial performance.

When "Up in the Clouds" appeared at the Garrick theatre, Chicago, summer before last dramatic reviewers with one accord pronounced it the most elaborate, bizarre and lavish display of scenery and costumes that the Windy City had ever had the good fortune to behold. These views were later verified by New York commentators debut at the Lyric.

DELPHOS ENDS GRID SEASON WITH BRILLIANT VICTORY

WAPAKONETA 11 LOSES FINALE

Jefferson high, Delphos, completed the 1922 football schedule Thursday afternoon with a record of six consecutive victories, defeating Wapakoneta, by a score of 11 to 10 in one of the most hotly contested grid battles ever seen at Cleveland field.

By trouncing the Wapakoneta team for the second time this season the Red and White earned a record of six consecutive victories. The team was able to show courage that was indomitable earlier combats characterized their victory Turkey Day. Two successful tries for goal at the end of the game constituted the margin by which the Jeffersonians secured the win. Each eleven scored two touchdowns, but whereas Delphos, Delphos halfback, succeeded in his two kicks from place-kicking, Wapakoneta failed.

Wapakoneta's defense was every bit as good as the Delphos offense, but the Delphos offense was more successful in scoring. The Delphos backfield, led by the best ground runner for the Red and White, Rarey, was able to keep the Wapakoneta defense from stopping the Delphos advance. His punting was successful. His punting was accurate and his accuracy and distance.

Wapakoneta won the toss and kicked to Hick, who carried the ball 49 yards. Delphos' defense was able to stop him. Rarey, who substituted for Archer, had his right arm broken a minute before the game ended.

The Jefferson high school 1922 record is one to be proud of. Fighting an uphill battle after losing three straight, Coach Eugene Gorrill's scrappers took a hitch in their belts six weeks ago and started wading in a row. The team's record is as follows:

Delphos 6, St. Marys 12.
Delphos 6, Van Wert 12.
Delphos 6, Continental 0.
Delphos 27, Wapakoneta 19.

Giants Have Eighteen Pitchers In View For Next Year

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)
NEW YORK — John McGraw had a list of eighteen pitchers in view for next season, according to reports from the Giants' camp. McGraw is not anxious to do his tricks next season.

On the reserve list of pitchers assigned to the National League headquarters, the Giants have 13 pitchers, none of which are youngsters just picked up from the bushes. They are not for several more but they cannot be acquired until room is made for them.

Dave Robertson, utility outfielder and pitcher, probably will get down to legal size. The veteran pitcher will be retained next season and McGraw expects big Jack Kerr to be one of his leaders. Scott said to have been hurt on a morning trip, but the Giant's manager said that it was serious enough to affect his work next season.

The Yanks have a bunch of star pitchers. If they act that way, but more will be added. The club has first call on Jake May, the former star southpaw who but up in the Pacific Coast league last season.

PRINCETON LOSES 12 PLAYERS FROM 1922 SQUAD

PRINCETON, N. J. — While the Princeton student body is celebrating the victories over Chicago, Harvard and Yale, Coach Bill Roper has already started to think about the 1923 campaign.

The Tigers will lose a dozen members of the varsity football squad. It is quite a blow since most of them are regulars. Of the men who will graduate in June are Captain Dickinson, Thompson, Gray, Baker, Weaver, Cleveland, Snyder and Trapp. Roper will miss Dickinson, who played a great game at guard in the team's win over the Harvard team. He proved one of the best players of the year. His recovery from a knee injury at Harvard made possible the touchdown and victory over the Harvard team.

Gray, at end, has had a wonderful year. He is an All-American possibility. His recovery of a fumble following the victory over the Harvard team.

McHenry Will Be Missed FOUR TEAMS KEEP SLATE CLEAN

AUSTIN B. McHENRY

In the death of Austin McHenry the St. Louis National League club loses one of the best outfielders in the game.

Only a year ago John McGraw, anxious to secure an outfielder to take place of George Burns, is reported to have offered $50,000 for McHenry.

McHenry's death was the result of an operation for the removal of a tumor from the brain.

The loss of McHenry recalls the case of Arnold Hauser of the Cardinals. Hauser, at a time when he was regarded as the greatest shortstop in the game was stricken down by illness and was forced to retire from the game.

McHenry, regarded as one of the stars of the National League, suffered a collapse during the middle stages of the 1922 season. At the time of his illness, however, his condition was not regarded as being serious and he was sent home at St. Louis, Ohio, to recuperate. Resting for three weeks, McHenry apparently regained his health and he rejoined the Cardinals on their second eastern series in July.

Manager Branch Rickey, however was satisfied that McHenry had not thoroughly recovered. He played him in two games and after delivering a base hit as a pinch hitter in the game of July 31 against Brooklyn, he was ordered to return home for the remainder of the season.

BOXING DOPE

By BILLY EVANS

In any sport the athlete with the wallop gets the spotlight. The ball player who can hit home runs, the boxer who can knock his opponent cold, the golfer who can drive 'em a mile gets the hero worship.

Babe Ruth almost overnight became the baseball idol of the country, simply because he could hit the ball farther than any one else playing the game.

No diamond hero ever reached greater heights than Ruth. Incidentally, unless Bambino starts hitting home runs again next season, like Humpty Dumpty he is due for an awful fall. Fandom is fickle.

In the golfing world Jesse Guifford is known as the "Big, Sluggo Gun," because of the distance he gets to his drives. When Guifford plays he always has a big gallery in his wake. The crowd follows him because of his reputation of hitting 'em hard.

Jack Dempsey is a favorite because he possesses the big wallop. No matter how big or strong they are, Jack's opponents seldom go the distance.

PUNCH IS LOST ART
All of which gives rise to the question, is the punch becoming a lost art in boxing?

Of the present-day champions, Jack Dempsey is about the only one who rocks the boys to sleep. And because of the few heavyweight contenders the public doesn't get very many chances to see Dempsey in action.

The pugilistic game could get no greater boost than the coming of a champion in any sport who proved himself to be a real "knockout." There are no Stanley Ketchels or Terry McGovern roaming the padded pastures these days.

KETCHEL HAD COLOR
I don't believe there was ever a more colorful fighter than Stanley Ketchel. I saw him in a number of his best fights and never failed to get a thrill. Ketchel was a real fighter, yet the possessor of such cleverness.

The boxing game has too few champions. In these modern days the idea is to wait through a bout and do as little real fighting as possible. In other words, "bunk" the public.

Recently I saw an action in Detroit, a youngster by the name of Bob Sage, who reminded me in many ways of the late Stanley Ketchel. He wouldn't surprise me if within a year or two this fellow Sage would be a prominent figure in pugilistic circles.

Sage is a student at the University of Detroit. By the way, the University of Detroit is some pumpkin from an athletic standpoint. Recently the football eleven representing that institution surprised the football experts by its decisive defeat of Washington and Jefferson.

LIKES BOXING AS SPORT
Sage is a middleweight built along the lines of Ketchel. He is a fine looking chap, and so far has managed to retain his punchy attitude despite a number of hard battles. Like Ketchel, Sage can hit. Like Ketchel, Sage really enjoys the fight game.

In football the best players are the fellows who really enjoy the struggle. In baseball, the fellow who plays for the love of the game is the player who loses big things. The same holds good in boxing.

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)
NEW YORK — Princeton, Cornell, Army and West Virginia finished as the select eastern teams of 1922 who did not lose a game.

Princeton and Cornell, however, were the only eleven to win every game.

In a 9 to 0 victory over Pennsylvania yesterday, Cornell did nothing to tear down Princeton's claim for the mythical championship of the east. Cornell did not look like a wonder team as the weaker and badly outplayed eleven stopped it dead time and again.

Notre Dame's defeat at the hands of Nebraska was unexpected. The South Bend eleven stood off the rushes of the heavy three-point team, but they were not able to throw back the driving Nebraska.

In the south, Vanderbilt succeeded in keeping her slate clean by winning from the University of the south. Claim for the sectional championship probably will be disputed by Georgia teach who beat the great Auburn team 14 to 6. Neither had lost a game previously in their own sections. Centre came back to life and beat South Carolina 42 to 0.

California went into undisputed possession of the Pacific Coast conference title when the undefeated Oregon eleven and a rival for the championship was held to a 3-3 draw by Washington.

The coast now will turn its attention to two inter-sectional games scheduled for the holidays.

Stanford has a game scheduled with Pittsburgh and in the Pitt game, Stanford will find one of the best in the east. Pittsburgh has brought its eleven along slowly and in defeating Penn State yesterday 14 to 0, it showed a powerful punch and a great versatility of defense.

Penn State is to go out to the coast and play some team or other teams. So far it is not known what team will represent the west.

Princeton Has Good Claim To Championship Of East

NEW YORK — Princeton, with an established championship of the "Big Three," has as good a claim as any other eleven for the football championship of the east.

Looking over the schedule which the Tigers went thru without being defeated, perhaps they have the best claim on the title.

Cornell, beyond doubt, has a wonderful team, but the Ithaca team has no opponent on their schedule to class with Chicago, Yale and Harvard.

Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson also had fine football machines, but until both institutions established the three-year rule of eligibility there will always be some sentiment against classing them with other teams who work under the handicap of a freshman rule.

In many ways, Princeton had a most remarkable team in 1922. It looked like the blossom of a bud in late September, but it bloomed into one of the greatest of the many great eleven that have carried the Orange and Black colors.

Before each of the big games, the critics predicted that Princeton should not win, but they probably would.

The spirit of the Princeton team, that never admitted defeat, even when the evidence was powerful at hand, is worded on a sign posted in the Tiger club house:

"A team that won't be beaten, can't be beaten."

The Tigers have been called arch-opponents, eternal vigilantes and champion tuckers. Everything fits them but the lack of action.

The breaks did come for Princeton in Chicago and Harvard games and they didn't waste one chance to score. When the opportunity came they made the best of it. The luck all went against them in Yale game, but they won because they got only one chance to score and they scored on that one chance.

Princeton had no outstanding stars at the start of the season and perhaps the Tigers will not have representation on the All-American eleven, but after watching that team play no one will deny that IT WAS A TEAM.

After what he did this season Bill Roper will have to be recognized as a great coach. In the last four years, Harvard hasn't been able to beat the Tigers and Harvard is generally recognized as having the greatest football system in the country. The Houghton style of play is obviously superior to Yale's, but it doesn't seem to work against a team that "won't be beaten."

Harvard accused the Tigers of playing dirty football in 1921 and 1922. If there is any strain like that in the Princeton players, it must get itself out against Harvard, because none of it has been apparent in other games.

Princeton admittedly plays hard football, it runs hard and it tackles hard, but that is part of the game.

In the game against Yale, "Pink" Baker, the great Princeton tackle, had a chance to throw Charlie O'Hearn for a dirty fall. O'Hearn is so fragile that he might have been knocked out for the rest of the season with a heavy fall. Baker, however, didn't throw him. He just grabbed and held him.

Some stories are being told about the horrible language that Princeton used against the Chicago players last year and how rough work knocked out so many of the Chicago eleven.

It will be recalled, however, that several of the Princeton men were practically lost for the season in that game, so if Chicago was being roughed they weren't taking it like little lambs.

Athletic Play Prominent Part In College Life

(BY "BO" McMILLIN)
All-America Quarterback
Many colleges are being accused of over-playing athletics. This question has caused many worries to the college presidents. It is of vital interest to all of those who are interested in the advancement of public education in our colleges and universities. I would like to put in a good word in favor of the college athlete. I believe that the athletes in the American colleges of today have proved that they are a very important cog in the school life.

Now it is not my intention to infer that athletics are as important as the academic program, but they do help to promote an interest in the class work. Nowadays nearly all of the schools require their athletes to have a certain high scholastic standing before they are eligible for a contest. This, of course, helps to keep the student's interest in his work up to a higher point. It is mighty hard on a good man to be to stay out of a contest on account of low grades and the ones who amount to anything at all will work their heads off just to keep off the delinquent list.

Many will advance the argument that he will not have time to spend many hours on his studies after giving so much time to the work on the field. But if you will notice the scholastic records made by the majority of the noted athletes you will find that their class work is far above the average.

During my four years at Centre College there were two of our star football players who graduated as valedictorians of their classes. The scholastic standing of our team was above the average as compared with that of other organizations. Of course, there were reasons for this. The honor and self-respect of an athlete demand that he maintain the grade required by the faculty. Another line of reasoning that will usually work out is that it takes a bright student to be a successful athlete.

My main thought in covering this subject is to bring out the necessity of having organized athletics in an institution. It can educate the public to the fact that we will not accuse the schools that have been successful along athletic lines of using unfair means in getting a team together. Where a school has a permanent organization in athletics it will have a good publicity bureau and they will get big help in the securing of new students.

Take as an illustration Penn State. There you will find a wonderful organization and it has done much toward helping to build up the school. In 1921 they not only excelled in football, but competed successfully in all branches, and I am told that 85 per cent of the student body participated in some branch. If this is true, then 85 per cent of the Penn State students must have passed 12 or more hours of work in order to be eligible for the various teams. This in itself shows the organization along these lines plays a prominent part in the program of a school.

MIAMI BEATS CINCY

CINCINNATI — Miami University today defeated the University of Cincinnati in their annual Thanksgiving day football game, 9 to 6.

After Miami had scored on a field goal in the first period, the University of Cincinnati came back and scored a touchdown, but failed to kick goal. The ball saw-sawed up and down the field until the final period when Hopkins, Miami's quarterback caught the sixty yard punt of Linneman, University of Cincinnati right halfback and dashed to the Bearcats for the final touchdown. Miami failed to kick goal.

SPORT CORES

Brockton, Mass. — Ronald Phillips, captain of the Lawrence High school team broke his wrist in the first period against Brockton High school, but went back into the game and remained long enough to break his leg when he was retired.

Paris — Appeal made to the French deputies to have the action of the French boxing commission against Battling Siki overruled was lost when the proposal of Deputy Diagne a Senegalese member was voted down.

Providence, R. I. — Terry Martin won from Jo O'Donnell, Gloucester, on a foul in the fourth round.

Ynu, Mass. — Johnny White Brooklyn, won a ten-round decision from Johnny Herman, Allentown.

Sonny Winters of Denison lost two teeth and swallowed 'em in collision during Saturday's game with Ohio Wesleyan.

Harvard will drop Centre from its football schedule and cut its list down from eight to seven games next fall.

Rival national associations in bicycling reach amateur agreement to share national control of wheel sport.

Jim Delaney, St. Paul middleweight, who injured his hand two weeks ago knocking out Eddie Richards, is boxing again.

TRICK PLAY IS ANCIENT

(BY BILLY EVANS)
There is a number of distinct plays in football. Some of these are known by name, some by number. The identity of many becomes lost.

In the Lafayette-Washington and Jefferson game on the Polo Grounds recently, Washington and Jefferson tied the score at 13 in the second half by using a play that had not been seen before by many who attended the game. In reports of the game this play was described as one invented last year by the University of California. Others credit it to Percy Houghton, former head coach at Harvard.

This play is one of the oldest in football. It was invented by Fielding H. Yost, Michigan's great coach, and used by him when he coached football in California before he ever came to Michigan. He has, incidentally, used the play ever since he took charge of football at Michigan.

Last season the play was tried twice by Michigan, failed each time, and has not been used this season. The Wolverines apparently decided the play too old and well known, but it was this play that enabled Washington and Jefferson to win what will probably be known as the best game of the 1923 season.

This play has for more than 20 years been known as the "Statue of Liberty." It is worked from punt formation. The alleged kicker takes the pass from center. The opposing ends and linemen are permitted to sift thru. All rush for the alleged kicker. He hands the ball to one of his mates in the back field as the tacklers swarm down on him and the runner, as you see, has an excellent chance of getting thru.

When the forward pass was written into the football rules the play became a finer weapon for Yost. Instead of faking a punt a forward pass was faked. The alleged passer drew back his arm as if to throw and, after the defense sifted thru and he was about to be tackled, one of his mates grabbed the ball and ran. Until he took the ball this mate was apparently intent only on protecting the passer by blocking.

Washington and Jefferson worked the "Statue of Liberty" by faking a forward pass. It went thru perfectly for a touchdown. Then Washington and Jefferson followed with another surprise play by forward passing for the point after touchdown and that one point was his margin of victory.

Mr. Yost remarked once upon a time, "The old ones generally get best. The older they are the better, for the older play is the less an opposing team ever expects to see it worked."

MULLER TO PLAY AT COLUMBUS

BERKLEY, Cal. — Football fans in the middle west are to see Brick Muller, famous star of the University of California, in action. Muller has agreed to play in a big game that is being staged at Columbus, O., on Dec. 2. Most of the players in action will be former All-American stars.

Mr. Yost remarked once upon a time, "The old ones generally get best. The older they are the better, for the older play is the less an opposing team ever expects to see it worked."

ST. JOHN'S WINS

The St. John's quintet celebrated the Thanksgiving holiday by defeating the Wapakoneta W. C. I. five 17 to 4.

The Angliaco visitors could not get started and after the local lads piled up a good lead in the first few minutes of play, were never stopped.

WESTERN RESERVE LICKS CASE

CLEVELAND — Western Reserve defeated Case 12 to 7 in the annual football game here today. Case has not won a football contest from Reserve since 1911. Reserve scored first when Wal tumbled and Hill recovered, going over for a touchdown.

O'DOWD IS FOULED

NEW YORK — Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul, won on a foul in the eighth round of a scheduled 15 round bout here today with Dave Rosenberg of New York. Rosenberg was disqualified for hitting low after two minutes and twenty-eight seconds of fighting in that round. O'Dowd was leading by a wide margin when the bout ended.

PASSING GAME IS USED BY YOST

Critics of Fielding Yost at the University of Michigan insist that his teams do not play modern football. Statistics of the games played this fall disprove such a statement. In six games, Michigan tried 84 forward passes and completed 42 of them, or exactly 50 per cent of the attempts. That is going some for a team reputed to be weak at the aerial game.

Mergers in All Lines Planned, B. C. Forbes Says

FIELD TO BE INCLUDED

Auto Companies Will be Swallowed up, Writer Thinks

(BY B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK. (Special)

Auto mergers are coming.

They are brewing in the East.

They are brewing in the Middle West, on the Pacific

We will see industrial mergers, mining mergers, utility mergers, mergers embracing nearly all lines of activity.

Incidentally, the indications from Washington are that the Armour-

Morris merger will not be forbidden.

In this column some little time ago I predicted that the next few years would bring the swallowing-up of many small and medium automobile companies by giant corporations.

This analysis of the automobile outlook has brought a number of prophets. As it is always well to hear both sides, it may interest you to read one or two extracts from papers received from men not identified with any of the gigantic automobile companies. Says one manufacturer:

"I see that you have been hobnobbing with some of the big automobile fellows in Detroit. Don't let these fellows beguile you into thinking that they are the only people who know the map. That's the way the big 'buggy men used to talk some twenty-five years ago and all sorts of schemes were projected looking to the consolidation of the carriage business and getting it into a few hands. Some of the accessory manufacturers tried to make a scheme.

There was once organized what was known as the Standard Wheel Company. This company bought up all of the carriage wheel manufacturers, or nearly all of them, and they

WHEAT MARKET IS UNSETTLED

Net Change in Prices Slight at Session's Close

CHICAGO.—Wheat tended upward in price today during early dealings, with trade moderately active. Higher quotations at Liverpool, rain in Argentina and prospects of immediate farm relief legislation at Washington all counted as bullish factors. A further reduction of 20,000,000 bushels in estimates of the Argentine exportable surplus was also a subject of comment. The opening which ranged from 3-4 to 1-1 1/2 higher, with May $1.17 3/4 to 1-1 1/2 and July $1.09 1/2 to 1-1 1/2, was followed by a little reaction and then by a fresh advance.

Corn moving up with wheat touched the highest price which the December delivery has yet attained this season, 72 3/4-8c. After opening 1-3 to 5-8 up, May 71 1/2-3 to 71-2, the market sagged somewhat but soon rallied.

Oats started a shade to 1-4 @ 3-3 higher, May 43 1/2-3 and later continued to harden.

Provisions were firmer in line with hogs and grain.

The wheat close was unsettled, 3-4 net lower to 3-8 gain with May $1.16 5/8 to 1-1 1/2 3-4 and July $1.07 7/8 to 1-0 1/8.

The corn close was unsettled at the same as Wednesday's finish to 1-3c lower with May 70 1/2-3 and 5-8 to 70 5-8.

STOCKS SOAR ONE TO 10 POINTS

Attempts to Force Further Liquidation Prove Failure

NEW YORK. — Extension of Wednesday's short covering movement, combined with some new investment buying of high grade shares, imparted a strong tone to prices at the opening of today's stock market. The demand embraced virtually the entire list with copper, oil, food and rail shares exhibiting the greatest strength. Union Pacific was pushed up 1-2 and Frisco preferred 1, with large fractional gains being recorded by St. Paul, Erie, first preferred, Reading and Rock Island. Houston Oil rose 2-1/2 points and Mexican Petroleum 2 with more moderate gains among other popular shares in that group. Cerro de Pasco led the advance in coppers with a gain of 1-1/2 points. Some of the other individual strengths shown were Express Steamers, Carburator, International Nickel preferred, Coca Cola, American Cotton Oil preferred and Tobacco Products, all up 1 to 2 points. General Asphalt yielded 1-1/4 on profit-taking and Sears Roebuck dropped 3-8. Foreign Professional operators apparently acting on the belief that the run-in of the shorts had progressed far enough to leave part of the market in a vulnerable condition began selling oil shares at the end of the first hour, being aided by some profit-taking on the part of recent buyers. Most of the oils recorded material recessions carrying them to lower ground. A number of oil shares, including Baldwin, Studebaker, Bethlehem B., Midvale and Marine preferred. General Asphalt lost 3-1/4, the preferred two, Pierce Oil preferred 2-1/2, Standard Oil of New Jersey 2-3/8, Marine preferred 1-5/8, Bethlehem B., 1-3/8 and Pan-American A. and B., one each. Toward noon the market turned upward in response to the demand for Crucible and U. S. Rubber, each of which gained two points. Lorillard Tobacco, General Electric and Westinghouse Airbrake all gained 3 to 5 points. Call money opened at five per cent.

Professional interests turned bullish in today's stock market after a futile attempt to uncover weak spots and force a further liquidation of prices. Representative shares were bid up one to three points and some of the high-priced specialties registered gains of 3 to 10. Sales approximated 950,000 shares.

Most of the oils recorded material recessions carrying them to lower ground. A number of oil shares, including Baldwin, Studebaker, Bethlehem B., Midvale and Marine preferred. General Asphalt lost 3-1/4, the preferred two, Pierce Oil preferred 2-1/2, Standard Oil of New Jersey 2-3/8, Marine preferred 1-5/8, Bethlehem B., 1-3/8 and Pan-American A. and B., one each. Toward noon the market turned upward in response to the demand for Crucible and U. S. Rubber, each of which gained two points. Lorillard Tobacco, General Electric and Westinghouse Airbrake all gained 3 to 5 points. Call money opened at five per cent.

Professional interests turned bullish in today's stock market after a futile attempt to uncover weak spots and force a further liquidation of prices. Representative shares were bid up one to three points and some of the high-priced specialties registered gains of 3 to 10. Sales approximated 950,000 shares.

NEW YORK. — Extension of Wednesday's short covering movement, combined with some new investment buying of high grade shares, imparted a strong tone to prices at the opening of today's stock market. The demand embraced virtually the entire list with copper, oil, food and rail shares exhibiting the greatest strength. Union Pacific was pushed up 1-2 and Frisco preferred 1, with large fractional gains being recorded by St. Paul, Erie, first preferred, Reading and Rock Island. Houston Oil rose 2-1/2 points and Mexican Petroleum 2 with more moderate gains among other popular shares in that group. Cerro de Pasco led the advance in coppers with a gain of 1-1/2 points. Some of the other individual strengths shown were Express Steamers, Carburator, International Nickel preferred, Coca Cola, American Cotton Oil preferred and Tobacco Products, all up 1 to 2 points. General Asphalt yielded 1-1/4 on profit-taking and Sears Roebuck dropped 3-8. Foreign Professional operators apparently acting on the belief that the run-in of the shorts had progressed far enough to leave part of the market in a vulnerable condition began selling oil shares at the end of the first hour, being aided by some profit-taking on the part of recent buyers. ## SHORT SHAVINGS

J. M. Madigan, head of the election board, hears that one of the polls opened a little late in Allen-co.

That was because the presiding judge would not stand out in front and shout, "Hear ye, hear ye. This poll is now open."

One of the women judges had a book of rules, and she wouldn't let the polls open, she said, until the presiding judge went out in front and cried, "Hear ye, hear ye. This poll is now open."

Bernard Blum reports a salesman traveling in silk dresses for miles, left his traveling bag of choice samples in the W. O. railway station, W. Market-st.

When he returned he found a man had sat down on the soft grip and was fast asleep. "The traveling salesman woke him up but made no protest," says Blum. "maybe it was because the salesman was a little fellow and the man he woke up had an unpleasant disposition and weighed about 250."

Jack Cass, deputy U. S. marshal, took two federal prisoners to Toledo for trial.

On the way back he was invited to join some traveling salesmen in a card game, but declined. "I played penny-ante with the prisoners on my trip," he explained, "and one of them turned up a fifth ace."

LIMA PRIEST INVITED TO ADDRESS, K. C. AT DELPHOS

Rev. James Clark of St. Gerard's parish, Lima, has been extended an urgent invitation by Delphos Council, Knights of Columbus, to deliver an address at a booster meeting to be held Wednesday night.

Father Clark was scheduled to speak at a previous meeting, but was unable to attend because of the heavy demand of his duties.

Plans for an initiation next spring will be formulated by the Knights of Columbus. A. J. Shenk is chairman of a committee to arrange the event. Other members are Dr. F. G. Maurer, P. A. Warnecke, Mark Jumpert, A. C. Weger, Dr. D. J. Clark, Ed King, R. H. Jettinghoff, Dr. F. A. Young, O. G. Weger, Joseph Welsgerber and Barney Von Lehmden.

16 SENTENCED
CLEVELAND—Sixteen men who were sentenced to prison and two others were fined when they pleaded guilty to a variety of charges in federal court here today. Ten of the prison sentences were for violations of the Harrison anti-Narcotic law, as the result of a special drive by government agents last spring. The sentences ranged from one to four years in the penitentiary.

TWO INVESTIGATIONS FAIL TO NET RESULTS IN SEARCH FOR LIQUOR

Two liquor investigations made Friday by Sheriff C. W. Baxter, in various sections of the county failed to net results.

Directed by Deputy Sheriff Clarence Fraunfelter, officers searched the farm of Peter Swimmer, in Spencer-tp and found part of what they believe was a still, a barrel of mash or box feed. No whisky was found. Sheriff Baxter and Deputies Fraunfelter and Loyal Baxter searched a deserted house in Bath-tp, northeast of the city limits early Friday. Nothing more incriminating than a number of empty bottles was discovered.

Ladies of the G. A. R. will entertain with a chicken dinner Saturday at 4:30 p. m. at Memorial Hall for the pleasure of the old comrades, their wives and widows.

A Mighty Power Today!

Shall it Kill? Shall it Help?

Over one thousand strong—it's a great force—it can do good and it can do wrong—which shall it be?

There comes into the world over certain cycles of time a great power that can influence the times—the power that can kill opportunity for better things or it can be opportunity itself for that which is good.

The existing order of things always cries "it cannot be," "it shall not live"—why? Because the new and better means a supplanting of that which has served its purpose—that which has lasted long enough.

PIGGLY WIGGLY has had its struggles—its battles—the misrepresentation of competition to contend with after six years of fighting and living it has more than one thousand stores in forty-one states of the United States and Canada.

PIGGLY WIGGLY is now a mighty power in grocery merchandising. This power enables it to buy merchandise in huge quantities at prices that mean thousands of dollars savings each year to the housewives of America.

PIGGLY WIGGLY is national in its scope—its stockholders live in the United States—from Maine to California from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico—it is not a local or sectional proposition and does not appeal to the prejudice of the good people of this town.
